1985 - 1986

Teresa Rossi

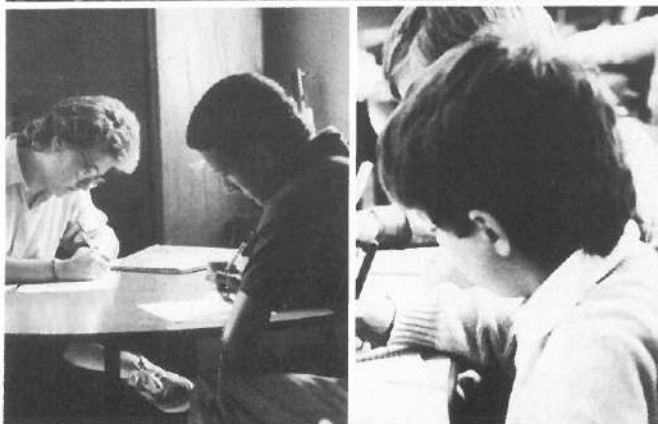

Alise Rossi

The 1985-86 yearbook is dedicated to two most caring and giving people who go well beyond the call of duty. They have filled our hearts with warmth and our stomachs with hot chocolate and Coca-Cola. Our dinners often ended in a wake of rubble and destruction and without protest they were there to clean up. They healed our wounds, served our food, and consoled our down-hearted spirits. We can't easily forget when they rolled in their pizza wagon as the hot lunch program rolled out. With a smile always on their faces, they made our bar-b-cues fun. Our days would be less meaningful without their time and care. And these are just some of the reasons why this yearbook is dedicated to Teresa and Alise Rossi.

Administration

The American Cultural Association of Turin is proud to present the 1985-86 year book. I would like to take this opportunity to thank the students and Mr. Boyle for the work they did in its production.

I trust that your years at ACAT have helped to give you a good preparation and a better understanding of different cultures and people. It is my particular hope that your time here has been a happy one and that, as you look through your yearbook, good memories will re-emerge.

I would like to wish all students and staff the best in your future endeavours.

A C t i v i t i e s

HALLOWEEN IS.....

The fantastic time at A.C.A.T. when our usually dedicated students let their creativity flow into the wierdest combinations from over-stuffed clowns and fiery red devils to carefully wrapped mummies and fiendiskly mad scientists. What else are fiends for?

THANKSGIVING: AN A.C.A.T. WAY TO SHARE

As in the past, the entire A.C.A.T. family gathered to share the traditional Thanksgiving dinner at school. But instead of representing the dinner in the yearbook we chose to recognize another A.C.A.T. tradition, our Thanksgiving trip to the orphanage. Through games and activities shared with the youngsters at the Institute Opera Pia we tried to recreate the spirit of the First Thanksgiving.

CHRISTMAS AT A.C.A.T. IS...

a happy visit from Santa as well as a sad goodbye to friends. Christmas is also the highlighting of many unforgettable memories: "the five days of christmas", merits for the S.M.F., etc.

...Christmas is also a time for sharing our special Christmas spirit with our elderly friends at the Pecetto Rest Home as the 7th grade shared their special spirit with us through the "Christmas Carol".

From Valentine's day to Carnevale,
ACAT
you're all heart

PTC SKI DAY: A welcome change of place

Away from the madding crowd of more populated areas, Bardonecchia provided a stunning backdrop for this year's P.T.C. ski day. A small but enthusiastic group of ACAT skiers challenged the icy trails while a larger, more sedentary audience of ACAT spectators relaxed under an enticing sun.

Whether daring novice, expert skier, or dedicated sun-worshipper, everyone enjoyed the great escape to Bardonecchia.

EASTER: a burst of sunshine and a shower of creativity.

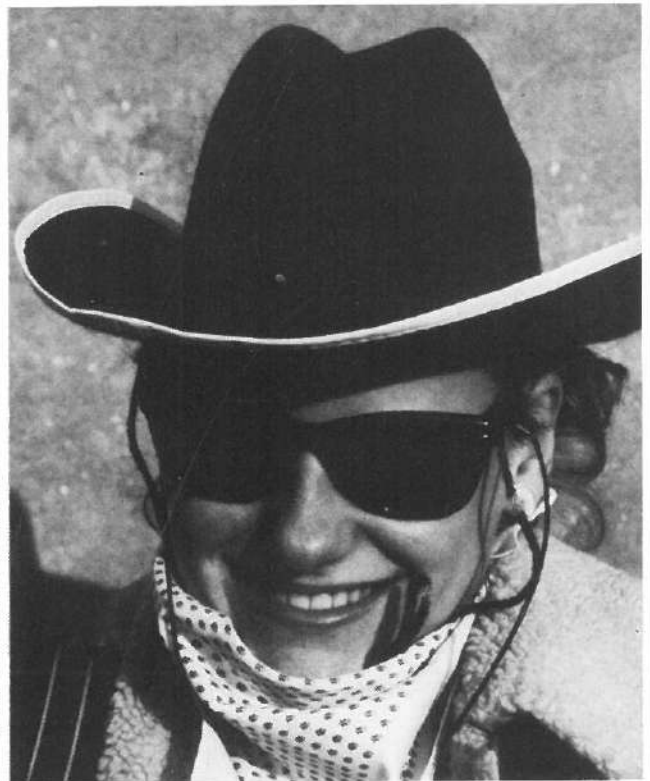

After a long gloomy end of winter what could be better than a burst of sunshine (on our heads) that resulted in the blooming of flowers on the ground (or on our heads) and the swelling of a renewed spirit in our hearts.

SPIRIT WEEK- A WAY TO SHOW OUR PRIDE

This year's "spirit week" started a new tradition at A.C.A.T. Spirit week was an attempt to show our school spirit in a different way, by dressing in unique ways, as cow-boys one day and backwards the next. Spirit Week was not that hot. In fact, it was rather cold because of the blizzard which ended the spirit after only two days.

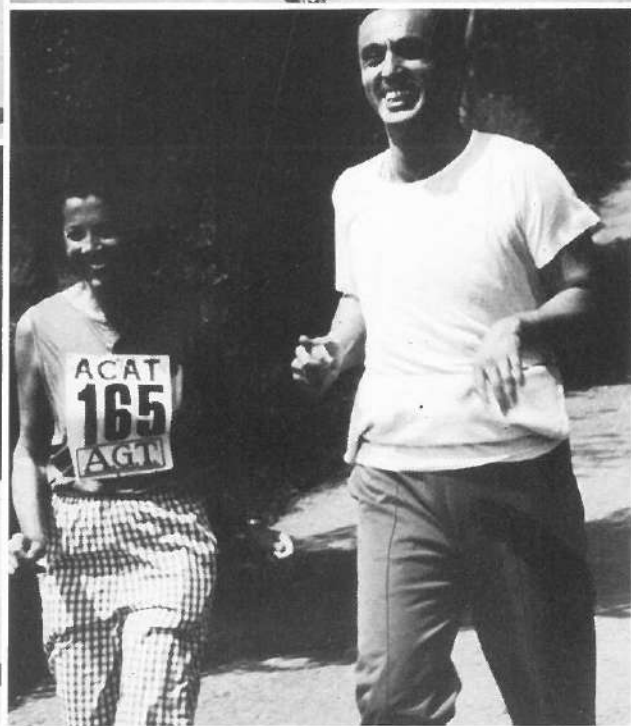

END OF THE YEAR BARBECUE- A LAST CHANCE TO BRING OUR A.C.A.T. FAMILY TOGETHER

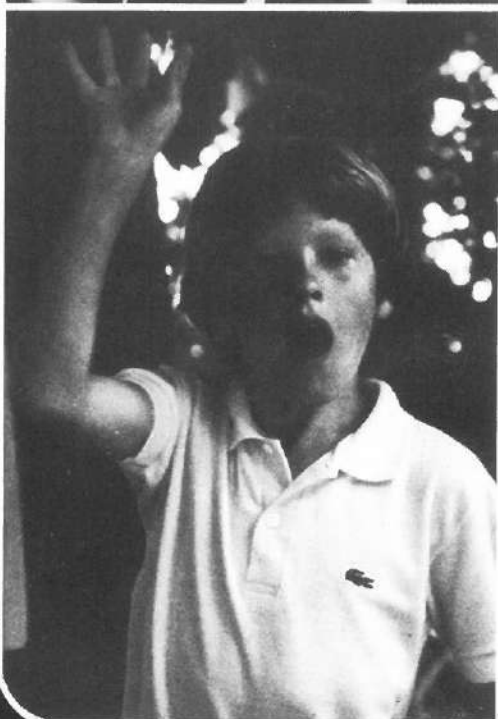

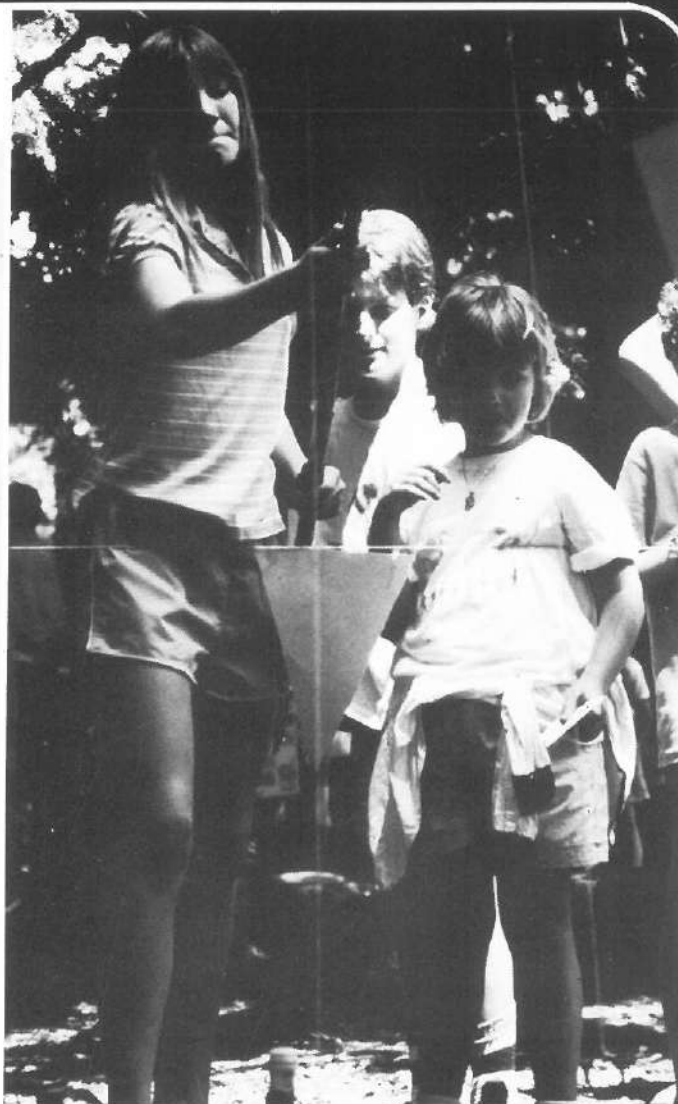

Our end of the year barbecue gave us a chance to end the school year on a high note. The barbecue also gave us a chance to give special thanks to Teresa and Alise, who have helped us all so much during the year. The barbecue succeeded in bringing our family together until next year.

STRACAT: the ACAT way for good friends to get together

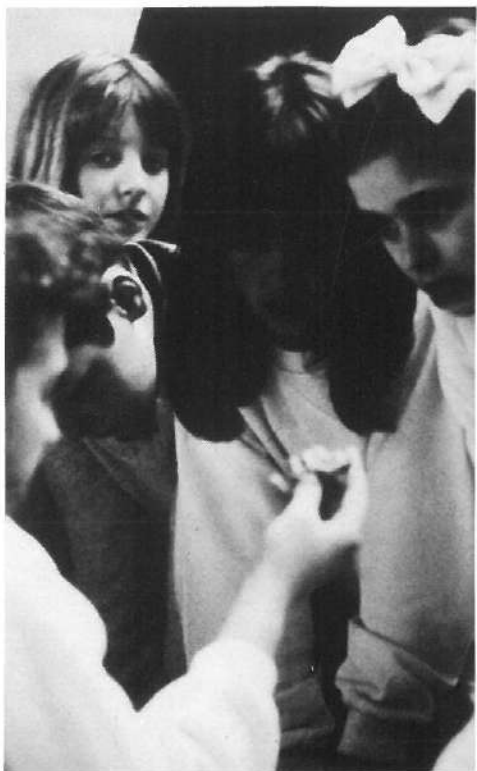

STRA-FAIR: A P.T. Celebration.

Egg Day: Eggceptional!

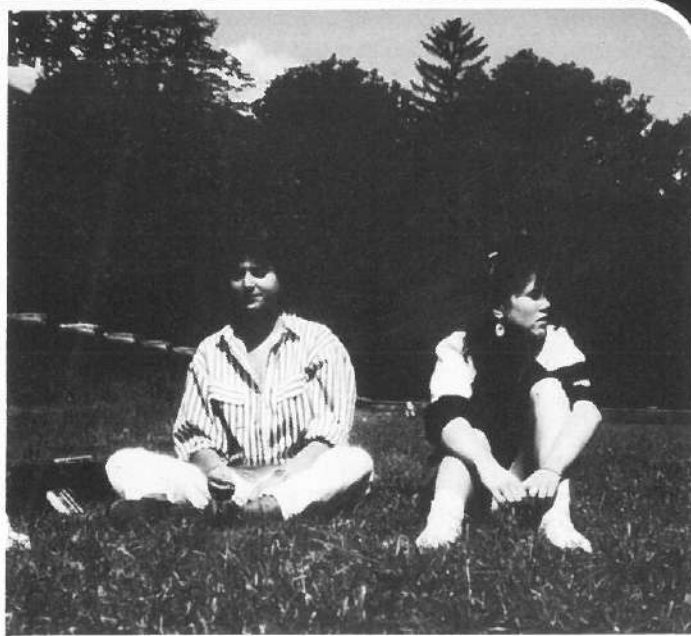

Science fair

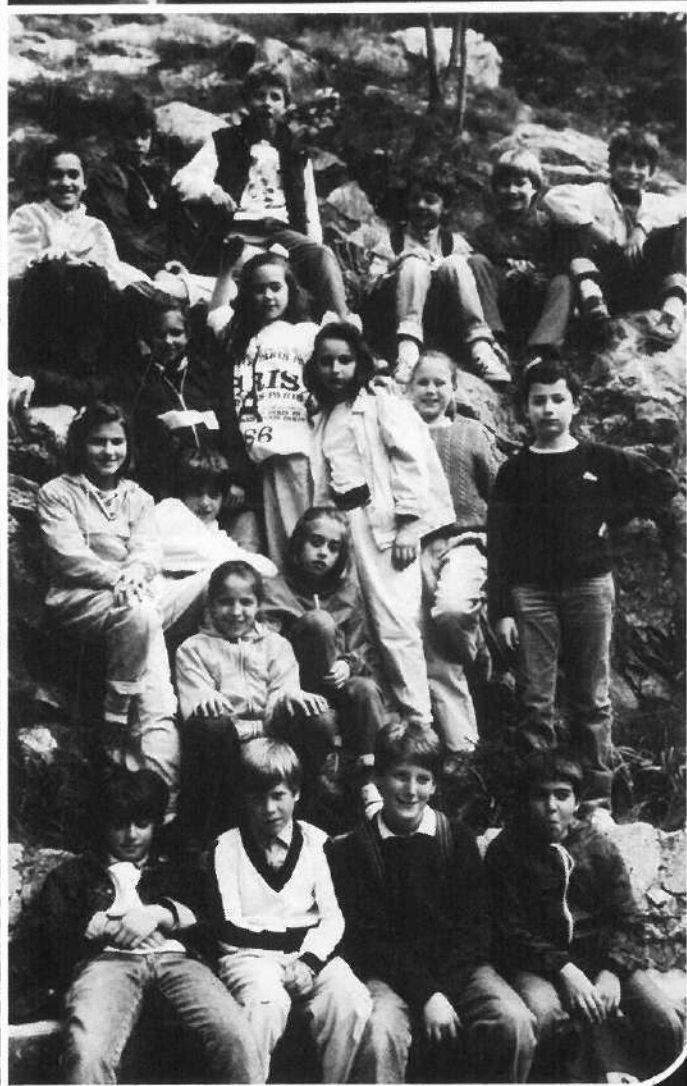

La Mandria: that wonderful feeling

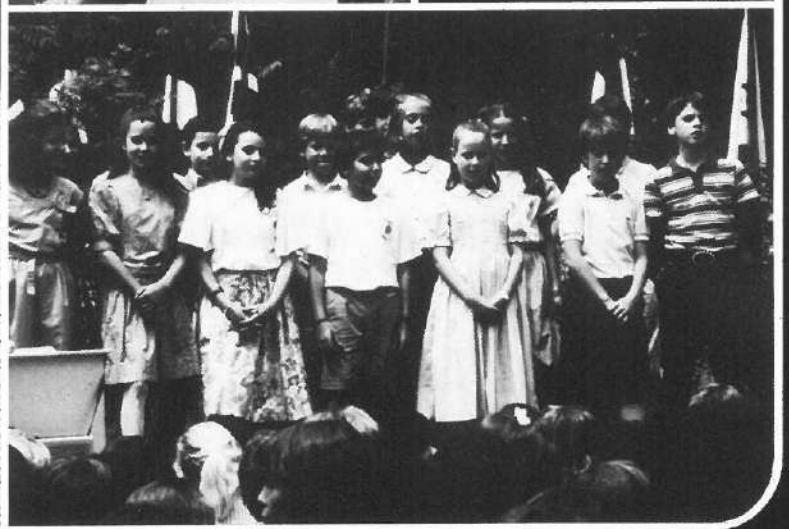

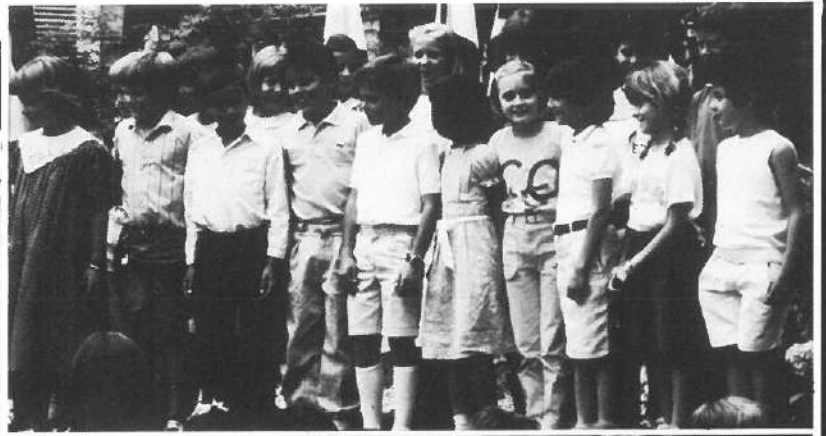

Field Trips: or just ACAT-ing Around.

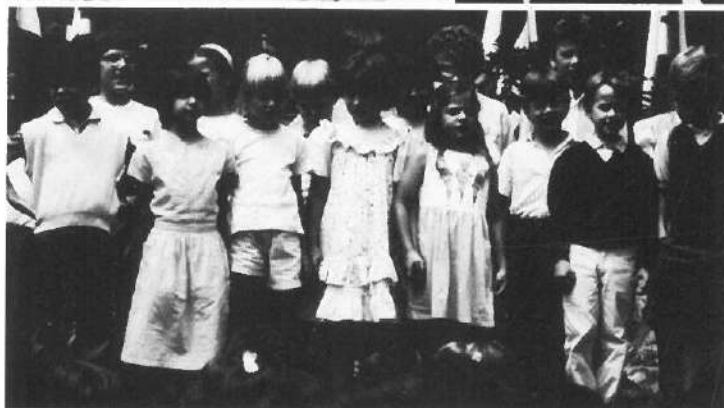

Undanted by either man-made or natural barriers, ACAT adventure-seekers logged an exciting year of great get-a-ways. The highlights of this year's field trip calendar saw the third grade at Lake Como, the fifth at Grotta Borsea, the seventh at Cinqueterre, the tenth on a golden-agers space trip, the 11th and 12th in Moscow and a mixed group off to heights unknown.

Elementary Closing Ceremonies

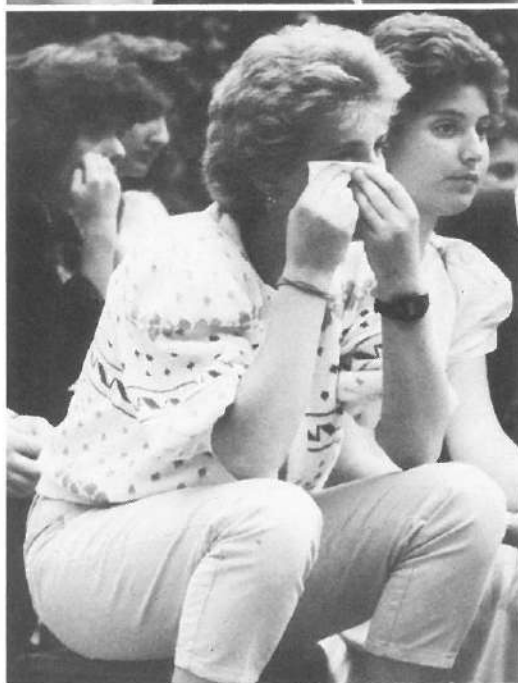

Graduation Day

Friday the thirteenth.....
 Eighth graders become highschoolers.....
 outstanding individuals are recognized.....
 parents and teachers are filled with tears of nostalgia..... and seniors become jittery about their future.

The Yearbook Staff wishes to acknowledge the help of Marelia, Luisa and Adele Fava without whom this book wouldn't have been finished.

We wish to extend our grateful appreciation to all those whose financial contributions have made the publication of this yearbook possible.
