A.C.A.T. '93

This yearbook was prepared by the high school students of the ACAT school.

The International School of Turin (A.C.A.T.)
Vicolo Tiziano, 10
10024 Moncalieri

A.C.A.T.: You can feel the difference!

Colorful slides and plastic playhouses, beautiful gardens and efficient facilities are all requisites for a school, but even more important are the people and the events that form the life of the school. The teachers with their patient support and continual encouragement, the students with their spontaneous creativity and boundless energy, and the parents with their enthusiastic interest and generous involvement have all made the difference here. This edition of the A.C.A.T. yearbook is a record of the special feeling that pervades the school throughout the year.

Mrs. Buckland shares some friendly advice with Giulia.

Paola Ronzan coaches a young boot tosser in the mir olympics.

A clown's nose can be a disadvantage when dipping for apples.

The Student Council's regular pep rallies pumped a continual flow of spirit into the student body.

Practical-minded PTA parents sponsor a convenience booth for early junior Christmas shoppers.

At the PTA Art Fair, genial Mrs. Kitarwaki plies her skill with origami.

Another favorite PTA project - the Stracat - gives us one more opportunity to come together.

Few people beat Yosuke when it comes to spirit.

Out of work, two Santas wait for the spirit to start up again next year.

Dedication

Jun 11, 1993

Dear Mrs. Compton,

Being a fifth grade teacher is not only teaching kids grammar and fifth grade material, but it also involves preparing them for a new challenge - the beginning of middle school. As we approach the end of this year and another new phase in our lives, we are reminded not only of the preparation but also of the fond memories of our wonderful fifth grade experience.

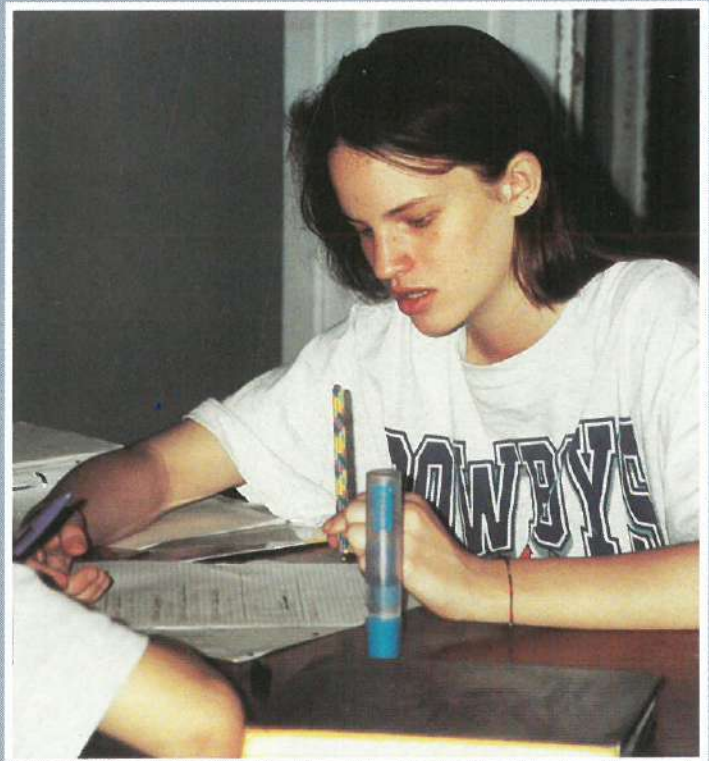

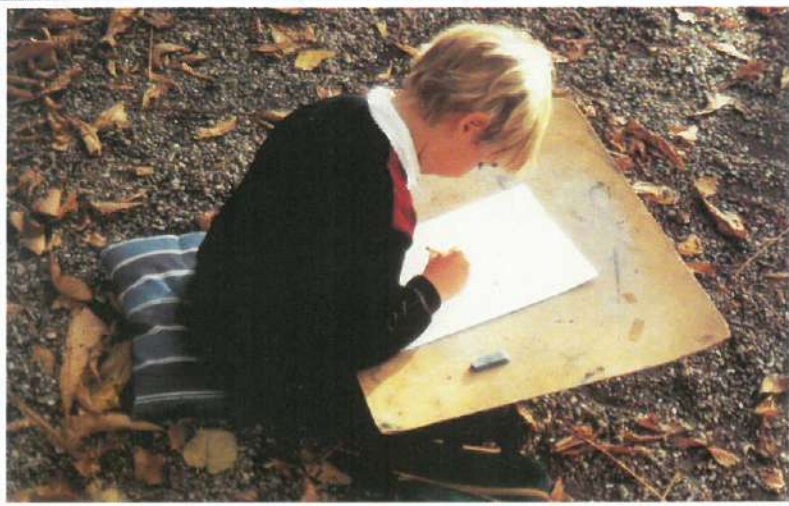

Through this dedication in the 1993 yearbook, we would like to thank you for all that you have done for us and we want to encourage you to continue the same method of educating future students so that one day, looking back as we are doing today, they will have a chance to thank you again and acknowledge the profits of their education.

Best wishes for the future!

*Lots of love,
Your former students*

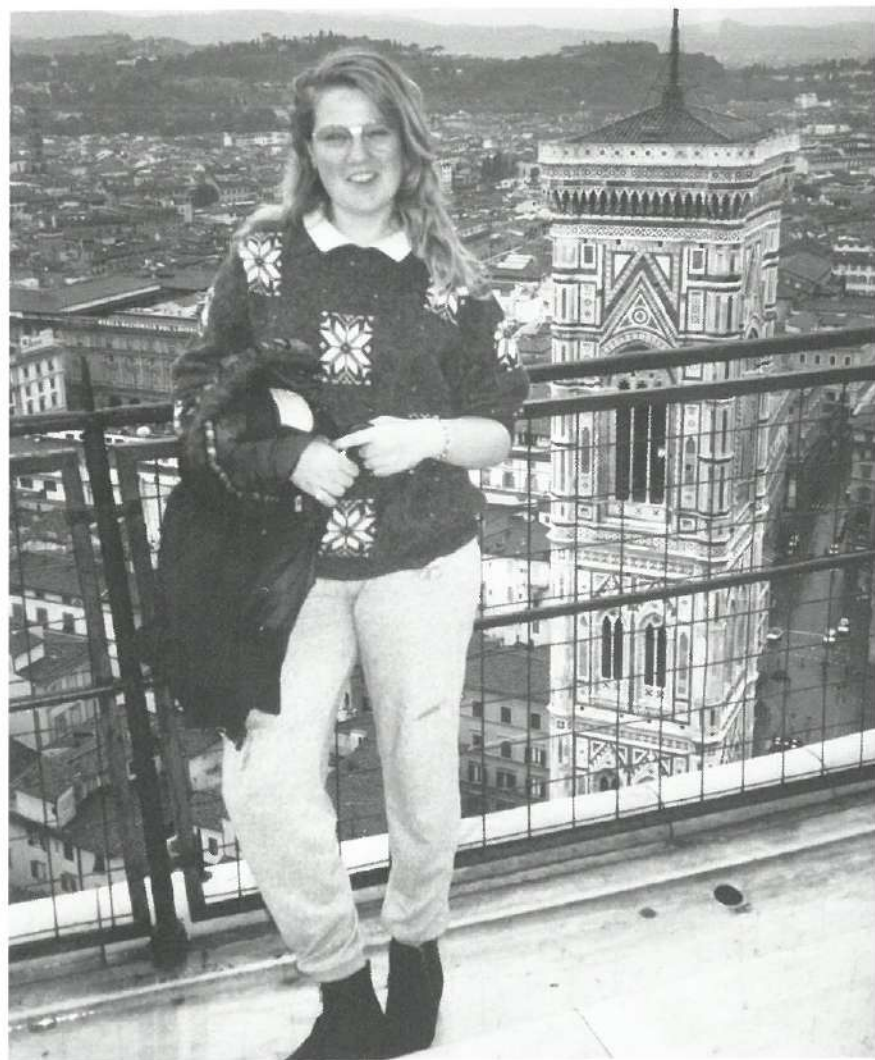

Academics

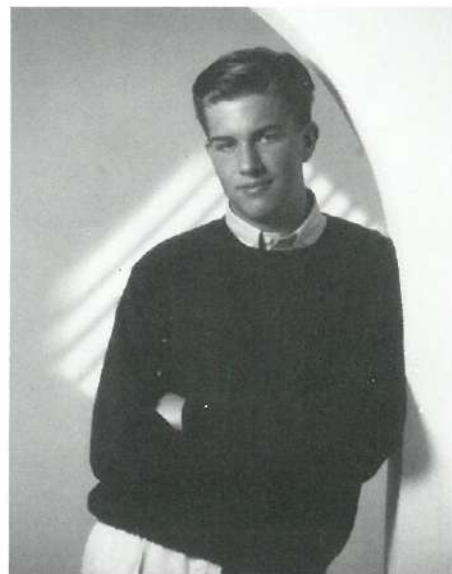

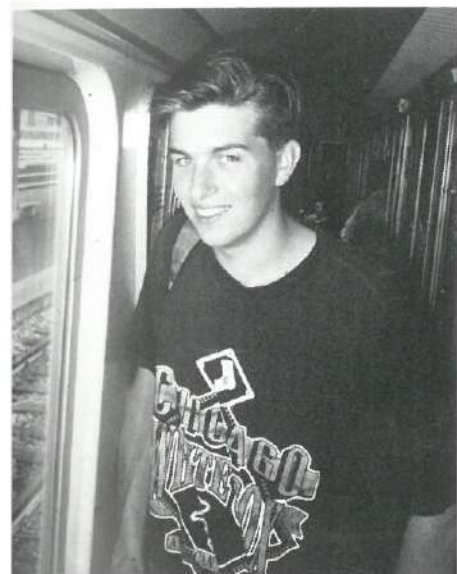

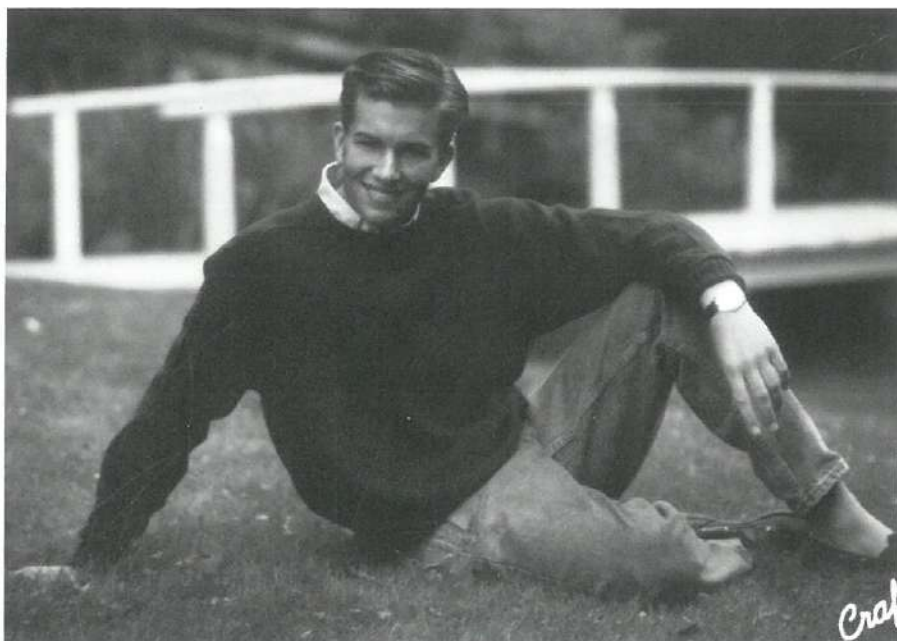

RACHAEL BENSON

Artistic Rachael is planning to attend Stroud School of Art. She applied her creative talent to build and paint beautiful sets for our musical "A.C.A.T. on Broadway". When she's not horseback riding or skiing, she is certainly listening to Bon Jovi.

BRIAN BUENTE

Brian's life at A.C.A.T. during these last three years had been quite busy and memorable ... he'll never forget BARTHOLOMEW FAN CLUB, bringing urin to school, in a jar, Tommi's German Night, and all Saturday nights ... his life philosophy is "work hard, but don't forget your biggest responsibility as a high school student: ... to party!!!!!!" To practice this, he's planning to live life to the fullest and have as much fun as possible.

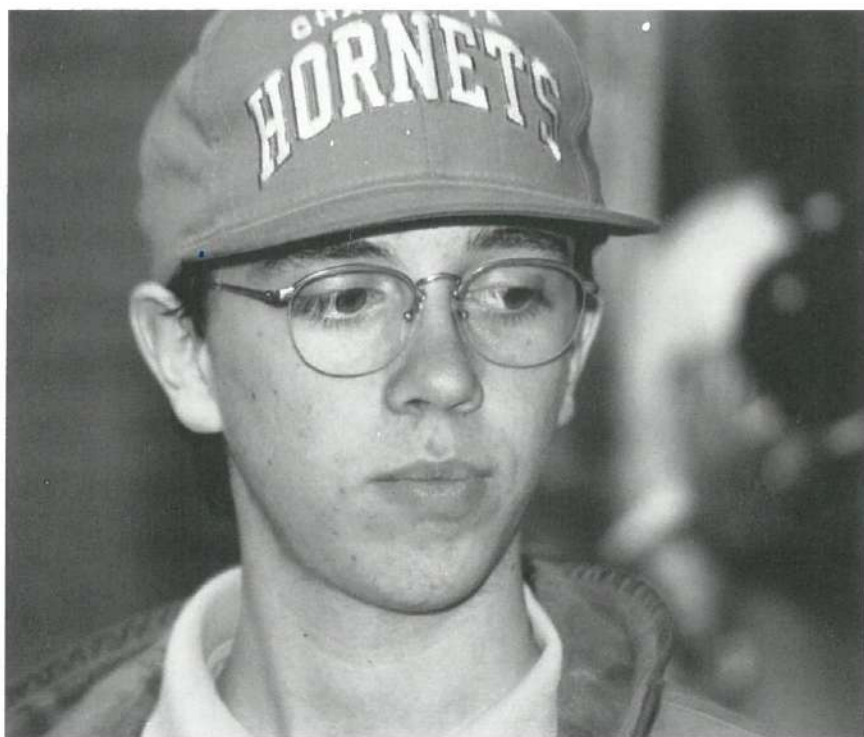

PIERO CARELLO

Active, stubborn, talkative, humorous, ambitious ... Piero likes sailing, soccer, skiing, baseball, and tennis. He is dreaming to sail around the world and ... if there's still time ... work for a very big company. His favorite part of A.C.A.T. is the baseball "thing" (it's not a court) and ... the relationship between students and teachers ... I.B. students: "Hang on, it doesn't last forever (although it seems like it!) ... You won't believe it, but you'll miss it."

TOMMASO COLOMBINO

Tommaso will carry with him in his future as a bio-engineer memories of the best friends and the best teachers he ever had in his life. He will never forget ACAT on Broadway, Paris, the soccer team, 30 kids lined up for candy in the playground, and in particular, Mr. Leiser: "I never really thought a teacher could mean so much to me until I met him." To his graduating classmates: "I have shared all of myself, my happiness and my sorrow with you. Some friendships I know will last forever, even if there is an ocean between us."

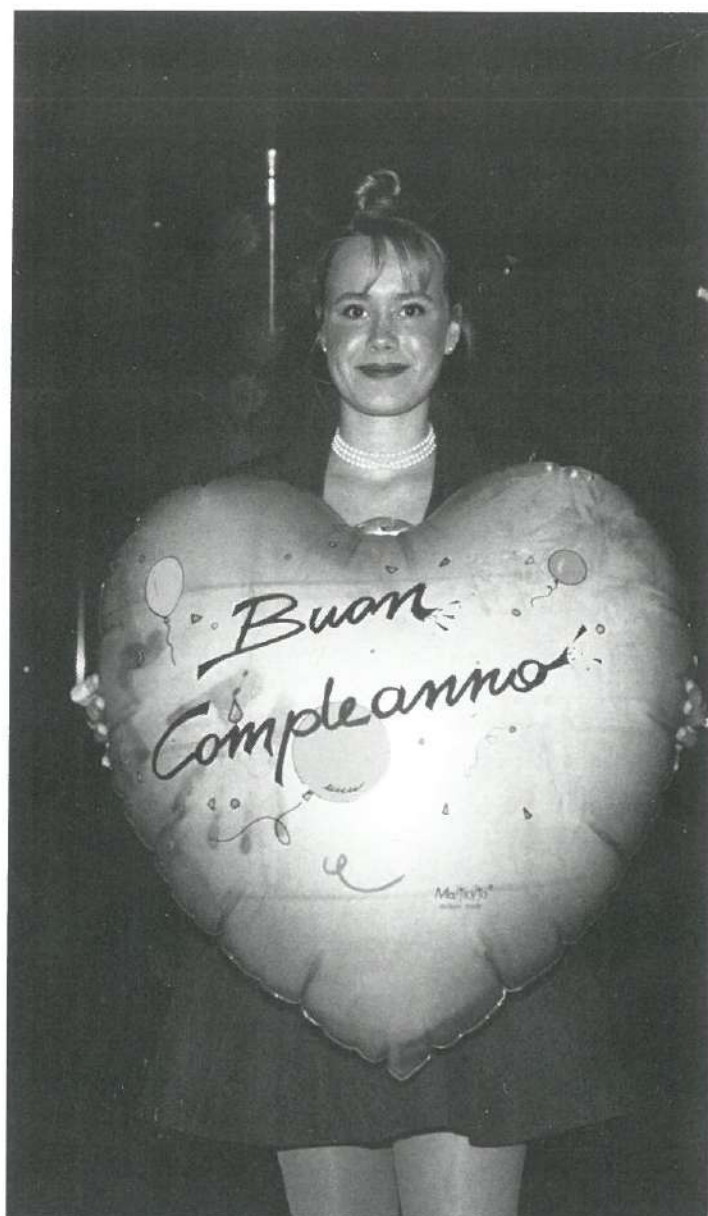

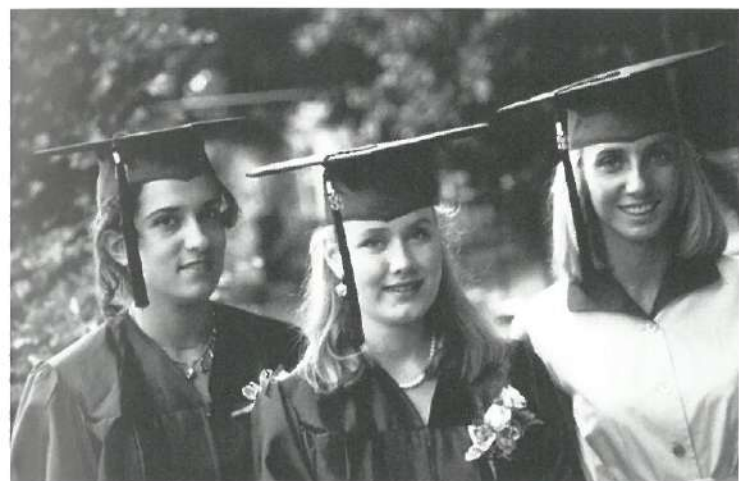

DELIA DOLCI

Business woman Delia contemplates a future in business management ... right now she's spending most of her time practicing sports such as tennis, golf, skiing, and squash. Her interest in rock music, classical music, and blues often leads her to concerts and parties.

GIULIA GINATTA

Giulia has many good memories here at A.C.A.T. ... she will always remember Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Bauer, Mrs. Shor, Mr. and Mrs. Mazzucco, Mrs. Corgnati, and Mr. Boyle, who were close to her since her first years at A.C.A.T. She will also remember all other teachers who are an integral part of A.C.A.T. and might still be here when she will enroll her children. Her favorite part of the school is the library ... a place where silence and studying did not always reign. A special thanks goes to Mrs. Milne for her infinite patience.

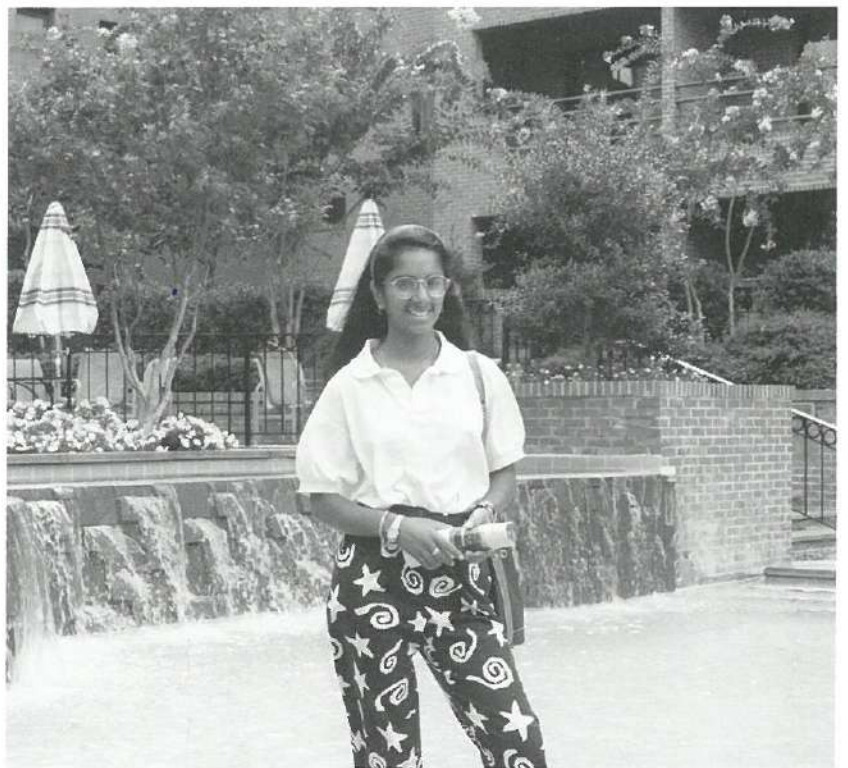

VALENTINA MODESTO

The Christmas concerts with Mrs. Brown, the magic moments spent with her friends in villa Sacro Cuore's garden and Mr. Boyle's symposiums will always remain in Valentina's mind ... She will study architecture in Turin, continuing to work in one of her favorite fields: art. Valentina spends her free time horseback riding, swimming and skiing. Her message to future graduates is: "Have fun now because later you will have no time to enjoy yourselves."

REENA PAVAN

Reserved Reena likes a peaceful evening in front of the TV which she alternates with exhilarating evenings with her friends ... she is planning to go to college and to find a special person to live with ... among her interests are classical and rock music, travelling, and art.

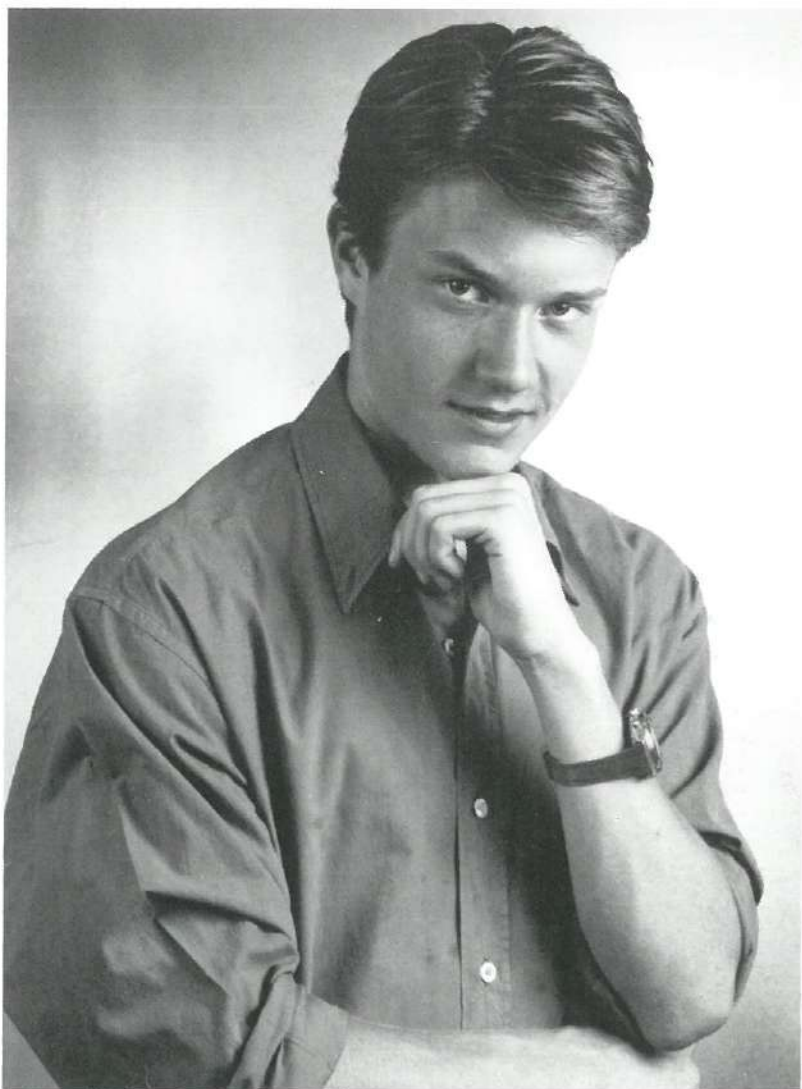

GIUSEPPE PELLONI

Giuse ... silent, fast, ambitious, simple ... loves study halls ... and all music except pop ... likes motorcross, climbing, sailing, and car races ... he hopes to race in car rallies and drive trucks ... A.C.A.Tiers: "Fight to defend your ideals."

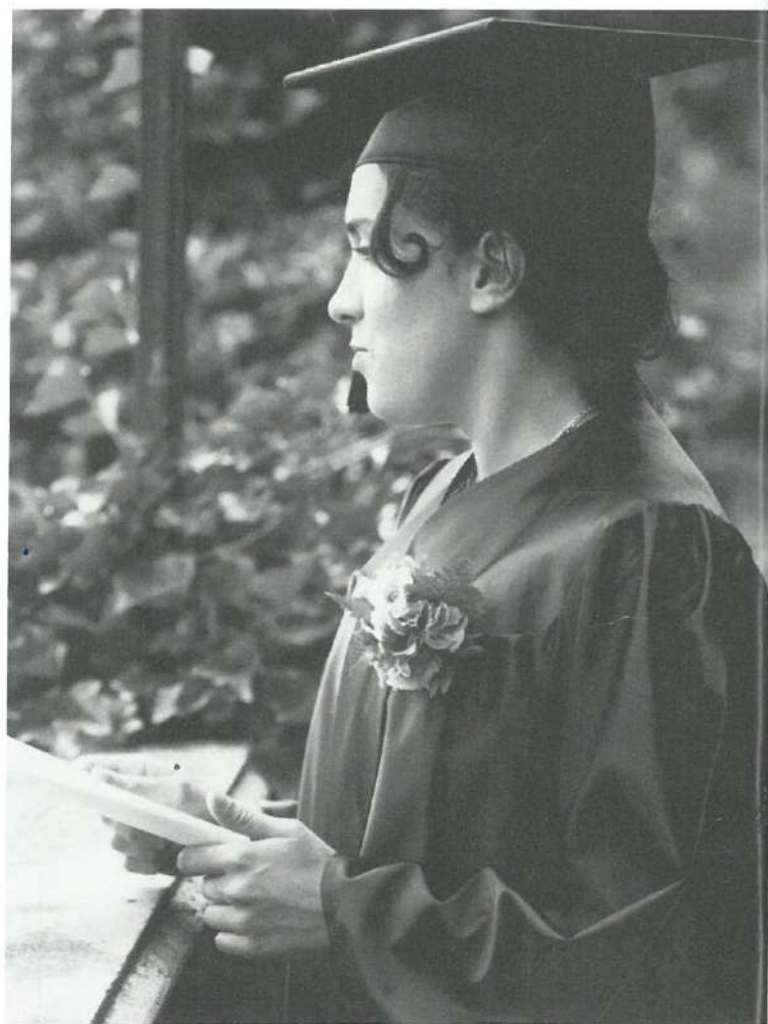

JOSEPH PIOVANO

energetic Joseph ... winner of two editions of STRACAT ... working with computers; birdwatching, playing the guitar, and listening to music ... he describes himself as determined, confident, reserved, patient, and ... occasionally absent-minded. His favorite expression is: "When the going gets tough, the tough gets going."

DEBORAH RUSSO

Lively Deb enjoys shopping, the telephone, Saturday nights at Fellini and Area. She will always remember ... Piolina "è la disperazione", Bellamore ... Bellamore, "right on baby, right on", Serii, "Alice in Wonderland", FORSAN ET HAEC OLIM MEMINISSE IUVABIT ... To the class: "Friends will be friends 'till the end!" Alla mia Gina: the very best.

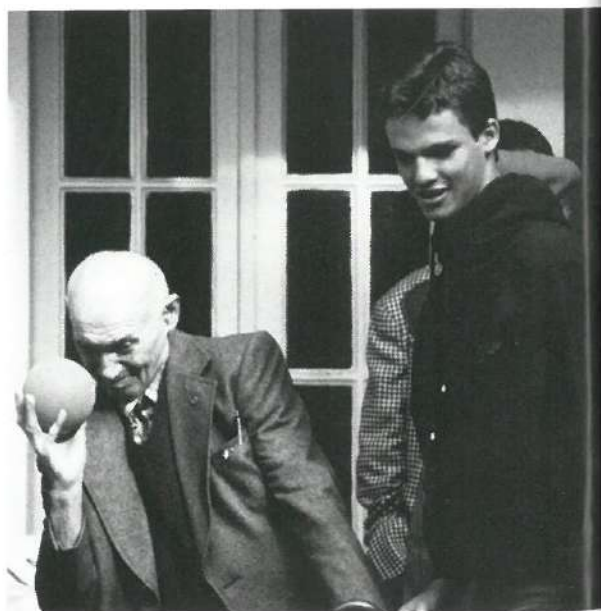

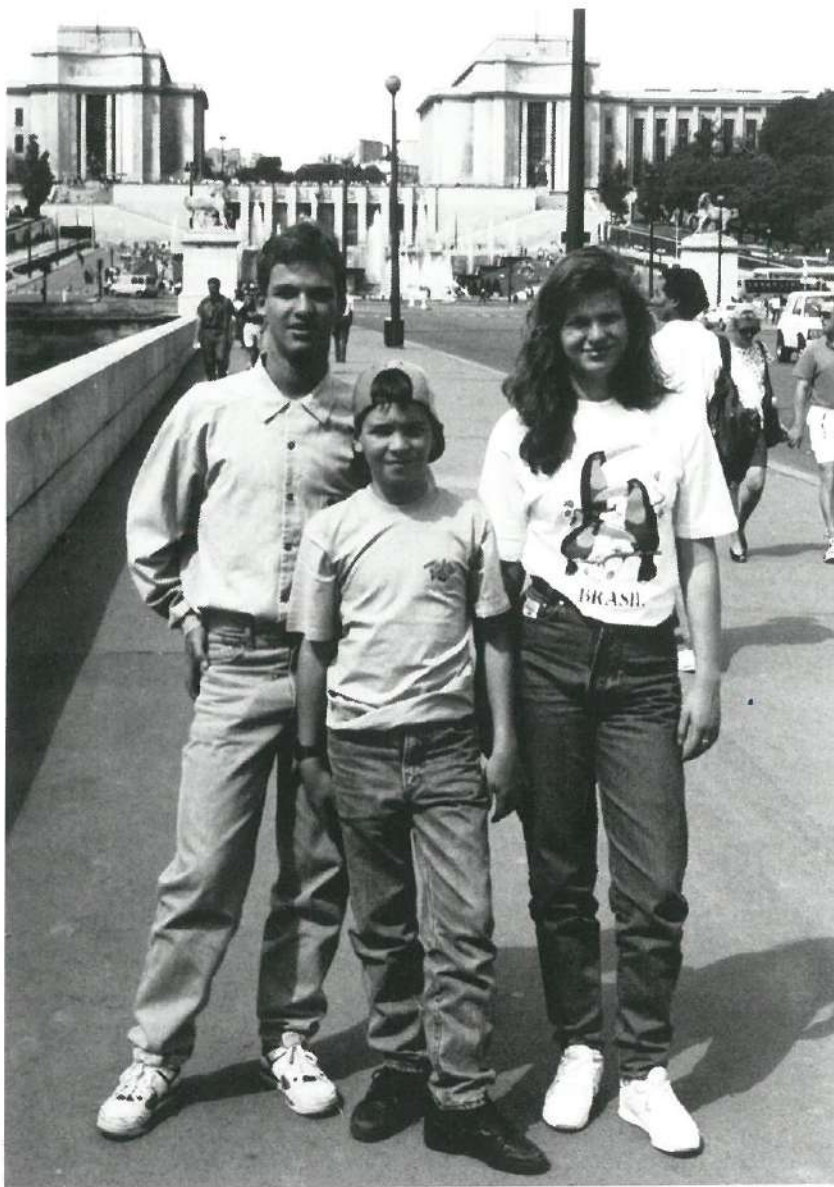

RENÉE SPOTO

Living on the philosophy that you can't have your cake and eat it too! ... Renée cultivates interests such as playing volleyball, singing, and dancing. She is planning to work with art, but now, shopping is the activity that mostly keeps her busy. She considers herself happy and caring. Renée's soujourn in Italy brought her many new friends and filled her with special memories.

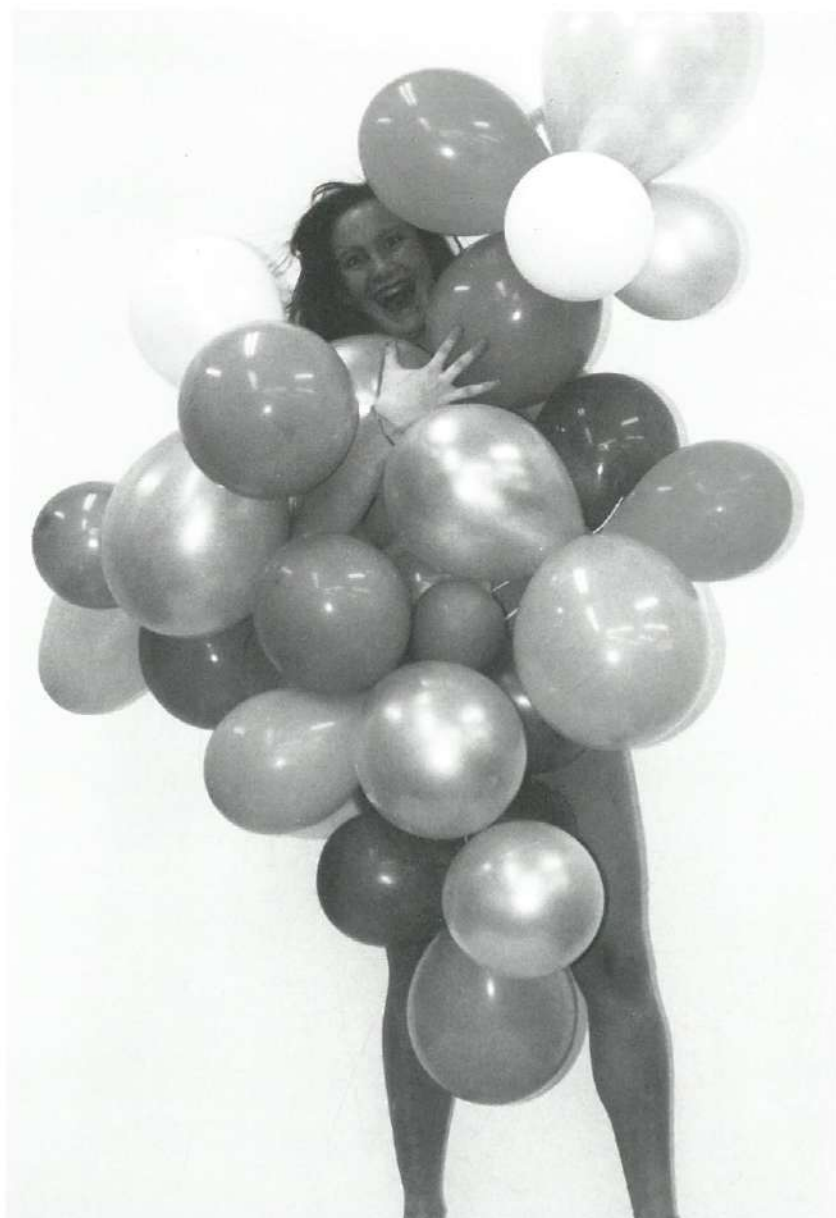

GUILHERME STEFFEN

Athletic Gui will never forget ACAT's basketball court he loves music and sports. Gui is planning to go to the University of South-Eastern Carolina and then to go back to Brazil. What he most enjoyed at ACAT were the soccer and basketball trips to Nice, graduation '92 '93, St. Valentine's dance and "ACAT on Broadway".

MARIA THIENEMAN

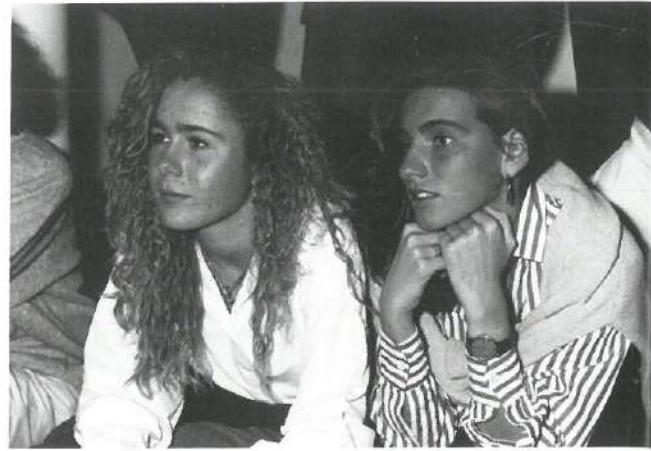

buoyant Maria ... will use her energy to become President of the U.S.A. and ... to have 22 children (more or less). What she especially liked about ACAT was "The Little Prince", "Alice in Wonderland", Graduation '92, Giulia's house and cars. Her message to future ACAT graduates: "Learn some, think some, draw and paint and sing and dance and play and work everyday some" ... "no matter how old you are when you go out into the world, it is still best to hold hands and stick together".

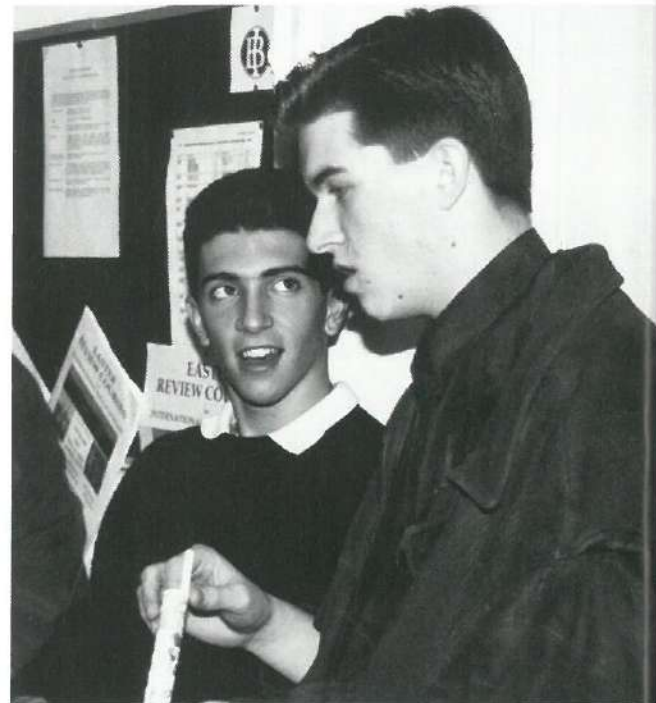

Senior Candidids

Double-paddled Deb is not going to take any chances river rafting.

One of the fun things to do is to watch the world go by.

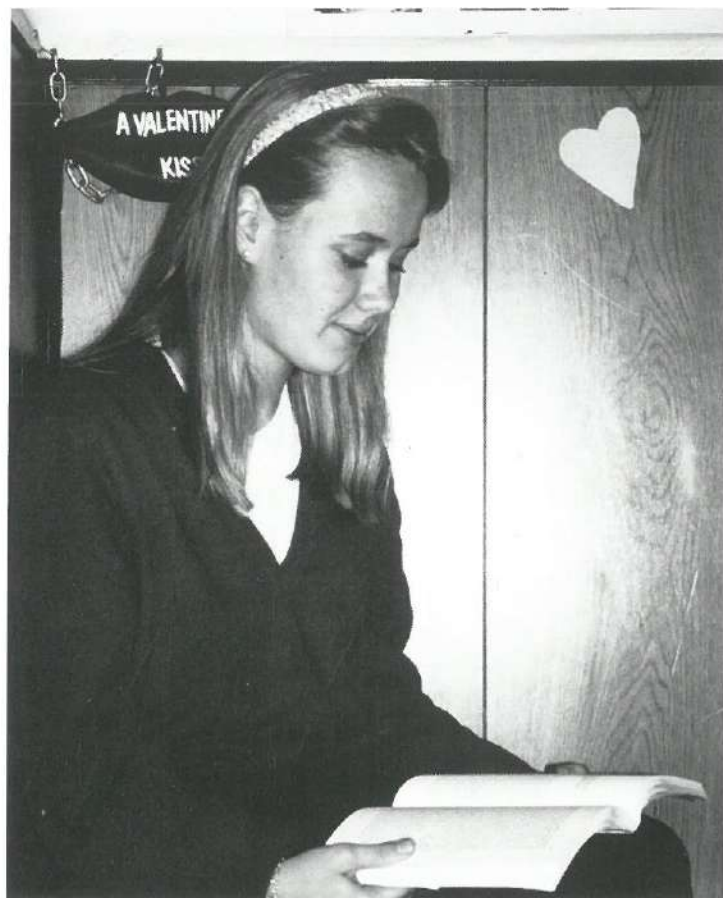

Brian and Piero take a "smartie" break from IB studies.

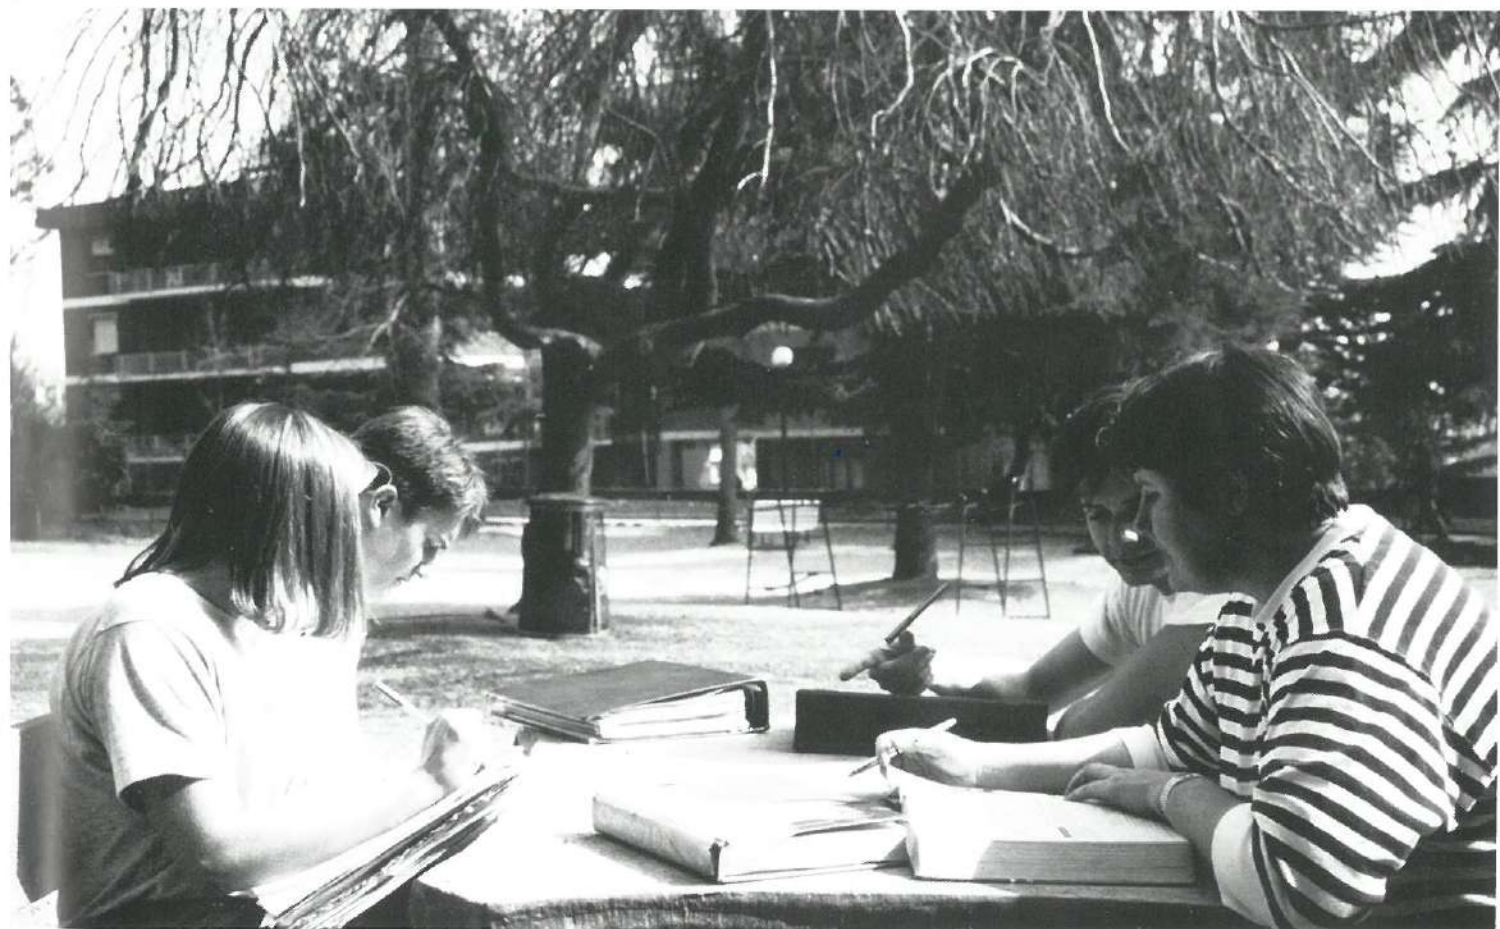

Pooling their artistic skills Rachael, Giulia and Renée reproduce an Indian teepee for International Day.

With a deft throw, Bassam "darts" a target and impresses Delia and Teena.

Giulia catches up on her history while waiting for a Valentine kiss.

Fresh air and sunshine help budding I.B. scientists to blossom.

Highlights of the year:

Always ready for another round, Brian makes a big hit with the "Little'uns".

Basically, just keeping his Easter bonnet on was enough of a highlight for Alessandro.

The Commencement exercises allow the Kindergarten chorus their last chance to perform.

Breezing along the STRACAT trail, Charlie and her running mates enjoy a chat on the run.

Mr. Selby and the stunning reality of opening day finally convince the students that vacation is over.

Career Day allows Davide and Emiliano to at least dream about their ideal car.

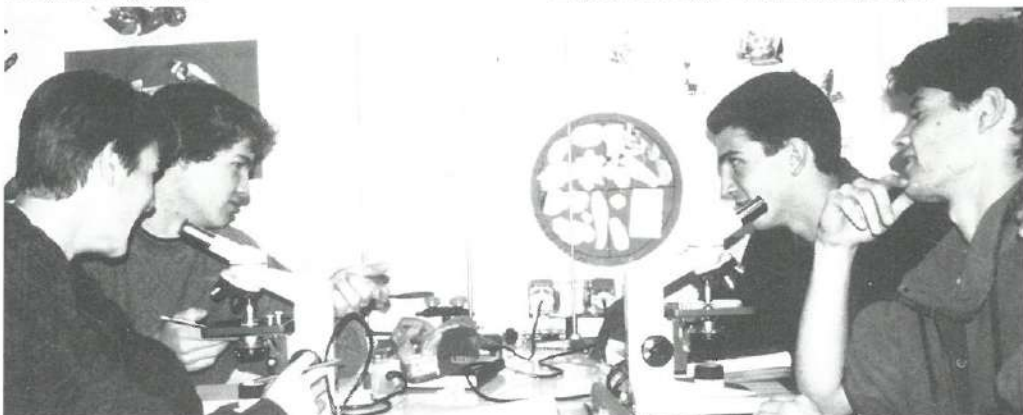

Before leaving us for Australia, Amanda films a few nostalgic tidbits to take with her.

At the Valentine's dance Melissa holds on to her year's highlight.

With his lips poised for action, Mohamed's Valentine's Day is almost a highlight.

Double, double, toil and trouble, sisters turn and blow their bubbles.

Escape is sweet for elementary cyclists at La Mandria.

Some glimpses of Acaters at play

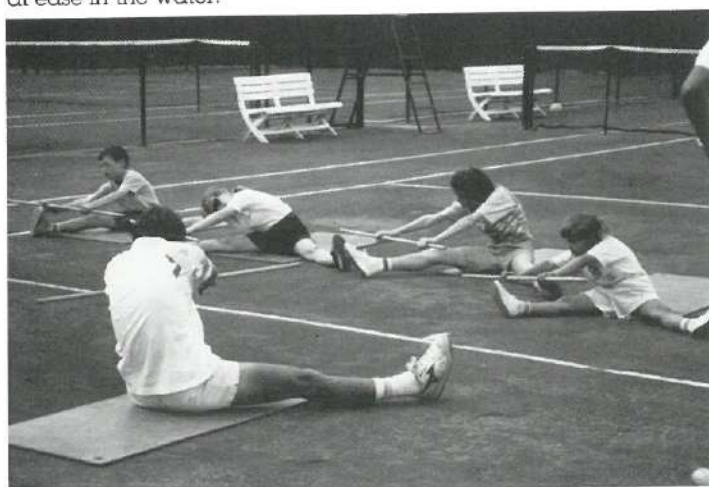

An important prerequisite for swimming is to be at ease in the water.

Taking her position, Carlotta gets ready to volley for serve.

A second requirement is to know when to yell for help.

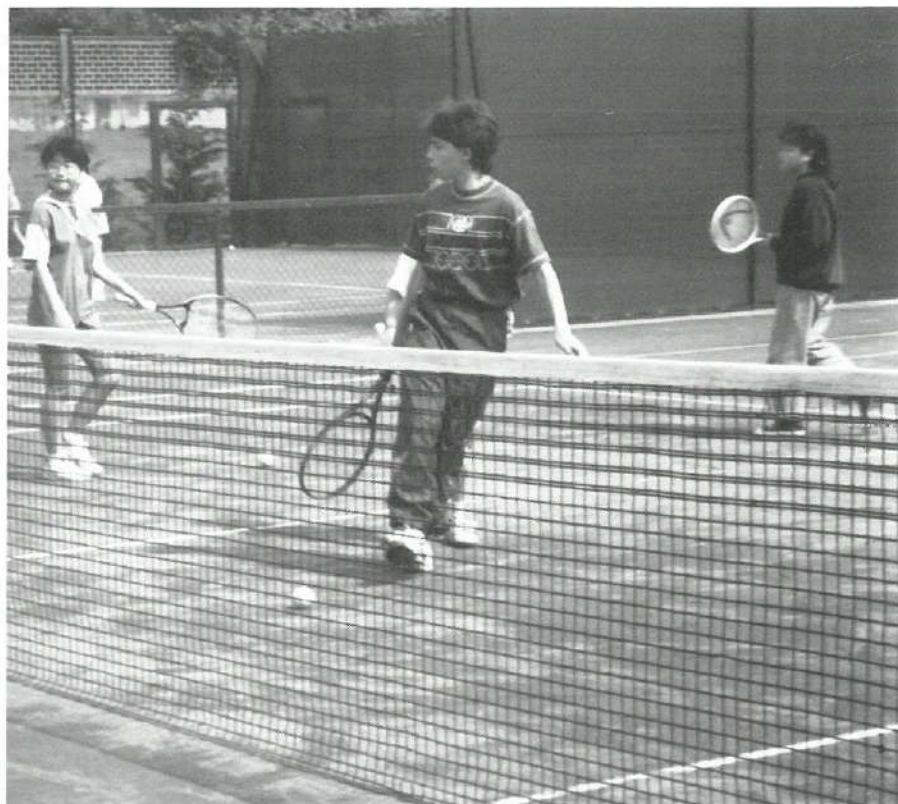

A few stretching exercises before a match help one avoid being stretched-out later.

Following the coach's advice Laura adjusts her stance.

Skinned knees are an inevitable part of the game.

Dazzled by a rapid volley, Lorenzo reevaluates his opponent.

A pause in the volleyball match gives Elisa a chance to pose.

Daily noontime practice keeps the ACAT hoopsters in shape for The Game.

Inspired by his own cheerleaders, "magic" Brian flashes across the court.

INTERNATIONAL DAY

Once again, International Day was sogged by rain which, however, did not dampen the spirit of the event. The colorful stands, as usual, displayed CAS creativity and ethnic pride. While the umbrellas took care of the wet people, the hamburgers took care of the whet appetites. To round out the full program, the whole crowd of lively kids was jammed into the small gym, where they had an exchange of elbow culture and of dart throwing at each other.

While creating posters, Maria experiments favourite sitting positions.

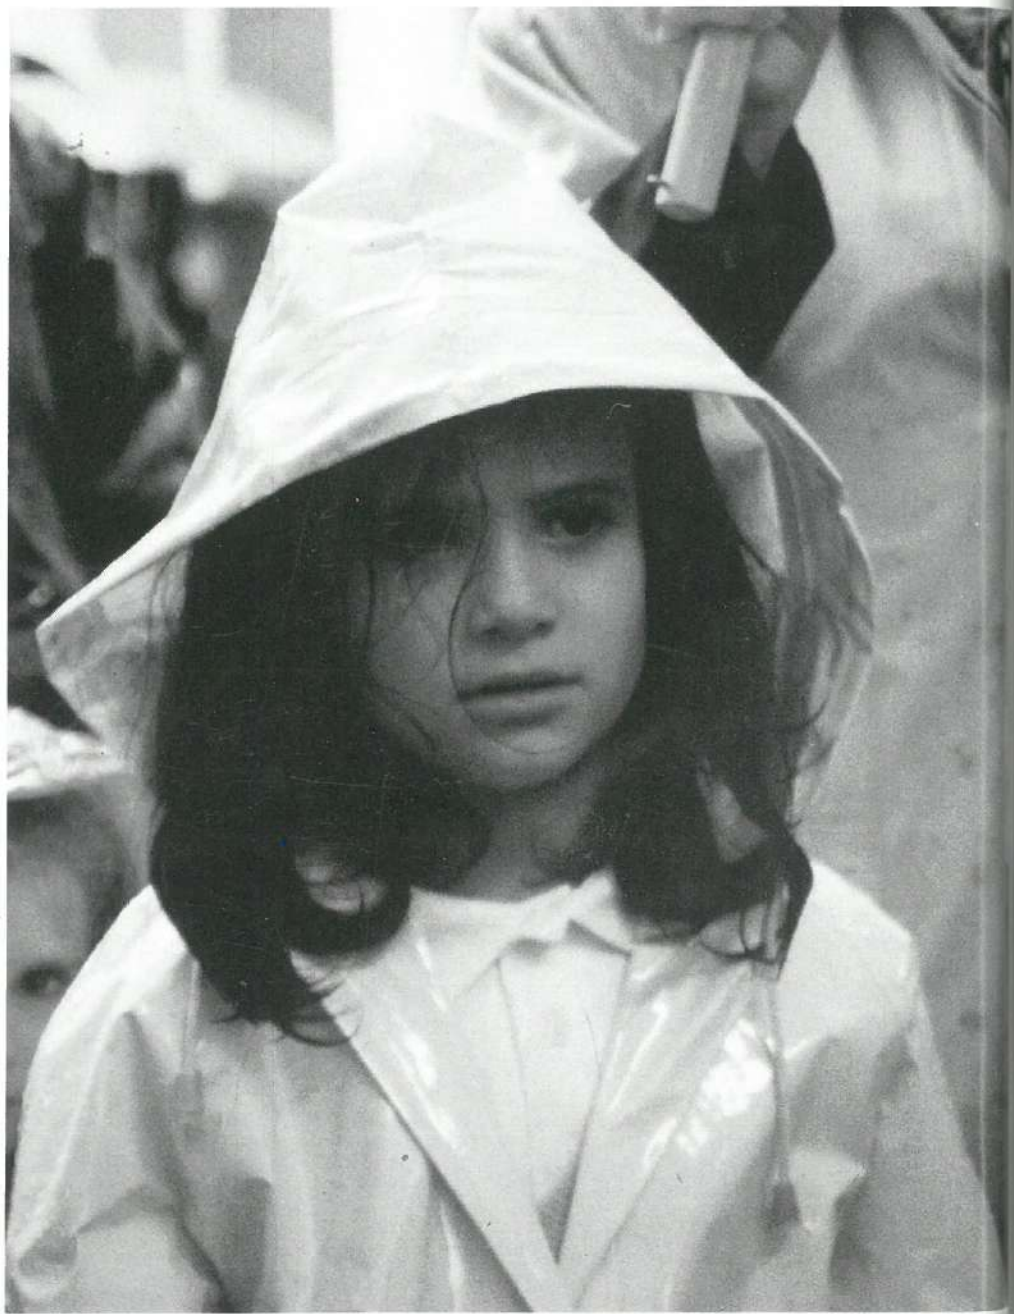

International Day is a day of sharing culture, having fun and ... exchanging umbrellas.

Barbecue time is most comforting on a rainy day.

International Day brings out the flag that is in us.

Soggy and desperate Stav waits in line for the barbecue.

The games give an opportunity to Claudia to show her skill and precision.

Rina's colorful Kimono adds another bright attraction to the creative Japanese stand.

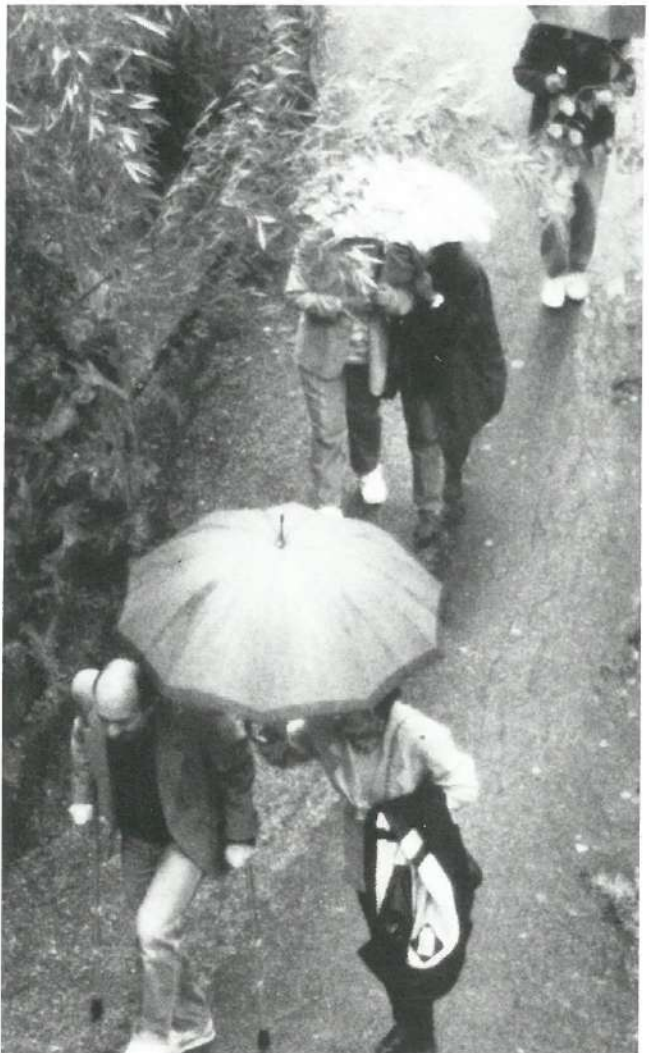

The Abdel-Rahmans were distinguished by their folkloric garb.

Nobody ever told Giulia that a Creperie was painful.

Mrs. Thieneman braves the inclement weather to partake of the tempting barbecue.

Just "Limping in the rain", Mr. Pesola perseveres through another International Day.

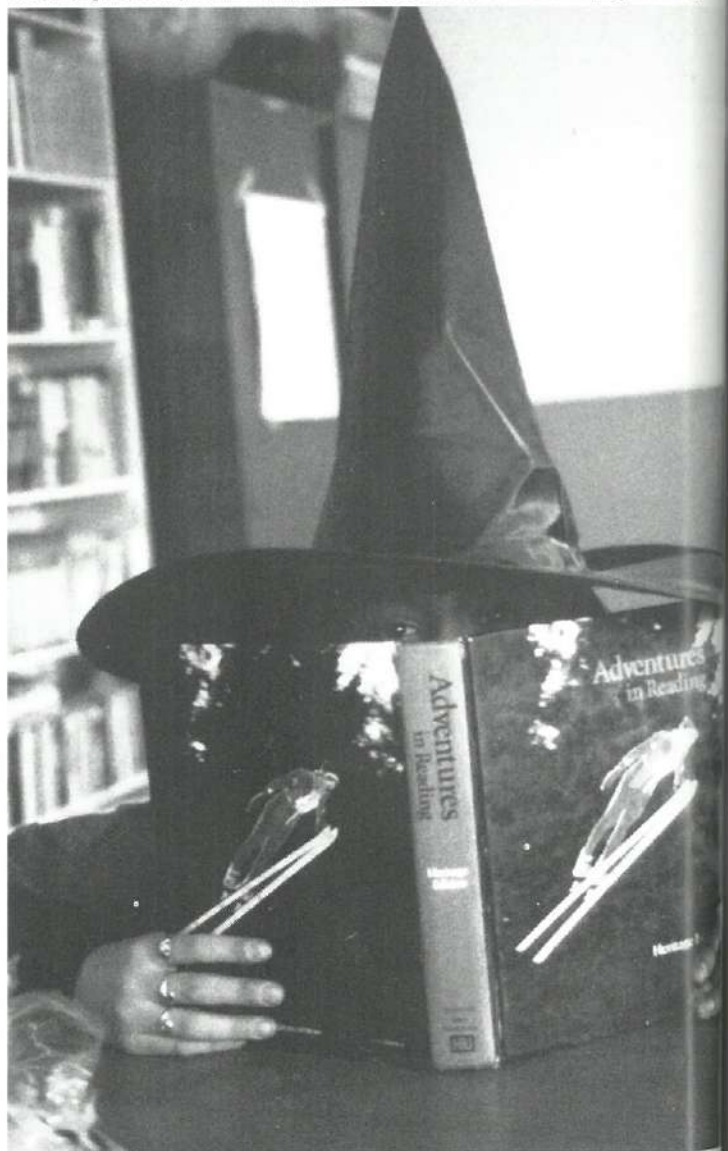

HALLOWEEN: A GREEN LIGHT FOR WEIRDOES.

Something in the air electrifies one's hair at this time of the year.

Whether you be a cat or a clown, Halloween at A.C.A.T. is always great fun.

Some "adventures in-reading" come alive.

A strange reception committee to Weirdland waits for any more guests.

Nothing stirs up the zeal and weirdness of ACAT students more than Halloween. Hordes of little demonic creatures and ghastly ghouls led by eccentric teachers march through the school gardens to raid the candy supplies and to terrorize the Old folks at Villa Roddolo.

Then the bigger ones come together to dip for apples and to ravenously devour their prizes.

This and much more characterized the day and especially the occasional weirdness of ACAT students.

Ms. Cuminsky suddenly found herself surrounded by little furry and horned creatures.

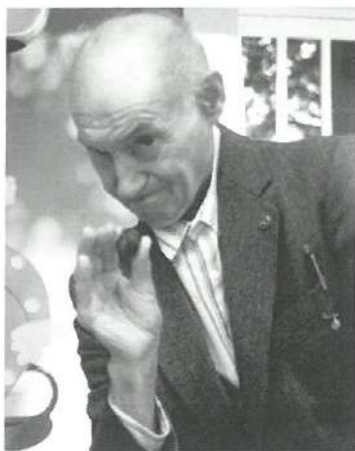

Halloween gave an opportunity to a genuine Keweenaw girl to meet a true Italian princess.

Big-mouthed apple dippers take bigger bites on their prizes.

Reaching out to the Ancients: an agreeable exchange

Mindful of our elderly neighbours, students in the 5th, 8th and 9th grades invented games, songs, and refreshments to spend limited but quality time with them. A lively, succulent fall chestnut roast, a spirited Christmas blitz and a Binny Bunny Easter fest highlighted this year's seasonal exchanges.

Yanny offers a personal chestnut to roast.

A gallery of games helped whet everyone's appetite for the roasted chestnuts.

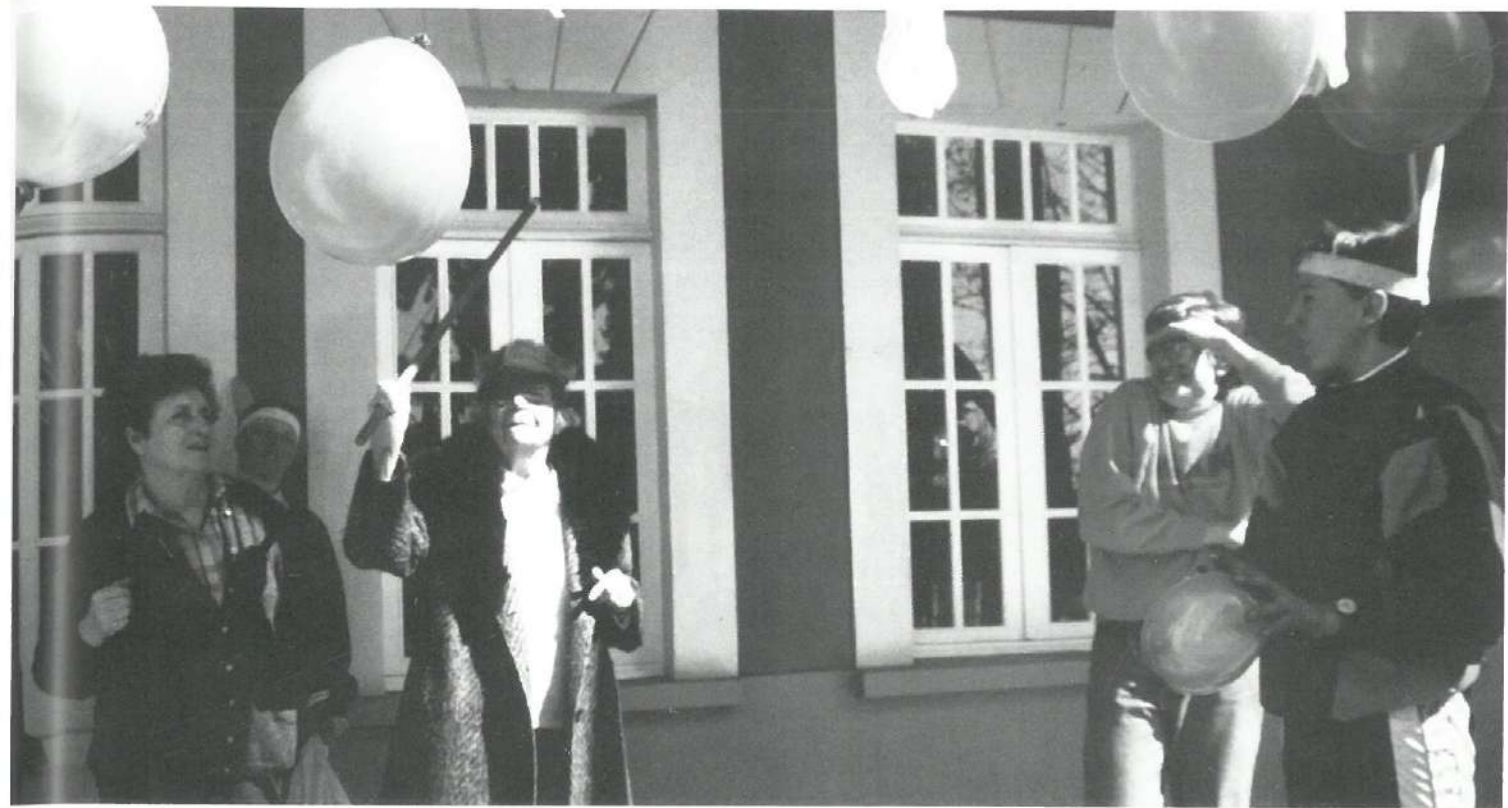

Rudolph and Company deliver a surprise package to spread Christmas cheer.

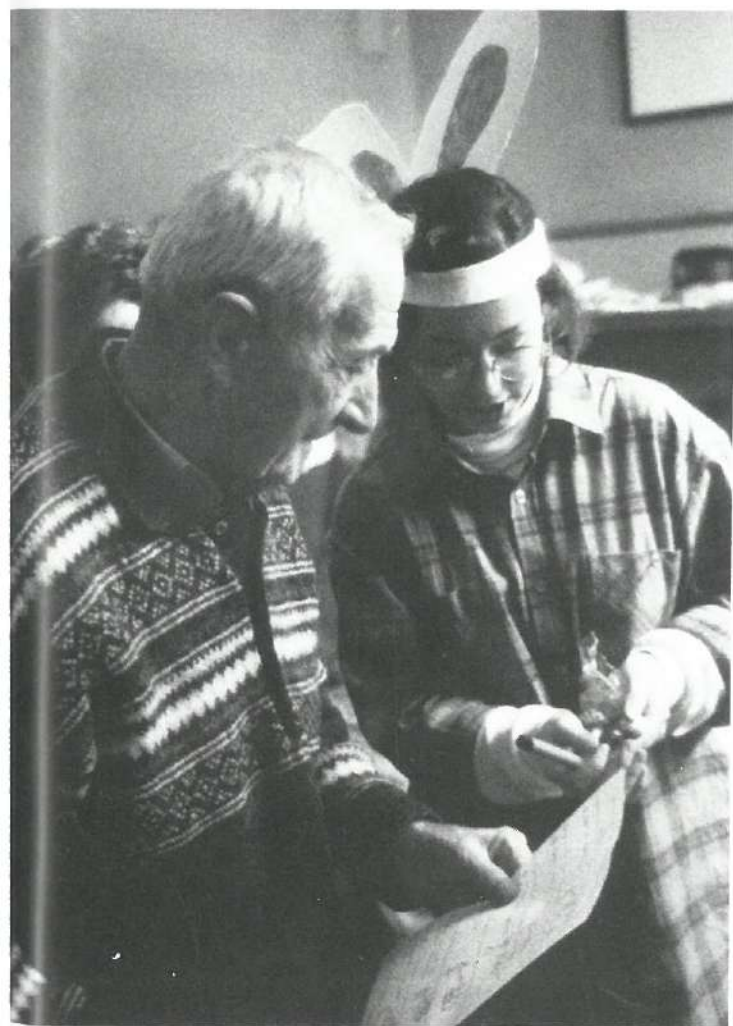

Full of the season's cheer 9th graders prepare for their visit at Roddolo.

A happy gathering concludes another outreach project.

A wild assault on the pinyatas concluded this year's Easter visit.

All ears, Alessia awarded one of the game participants.

Daring Roberta becomes a target for determined sponge throwers.

Floppy-eared Diego clarifies a balloon-buster's score card.

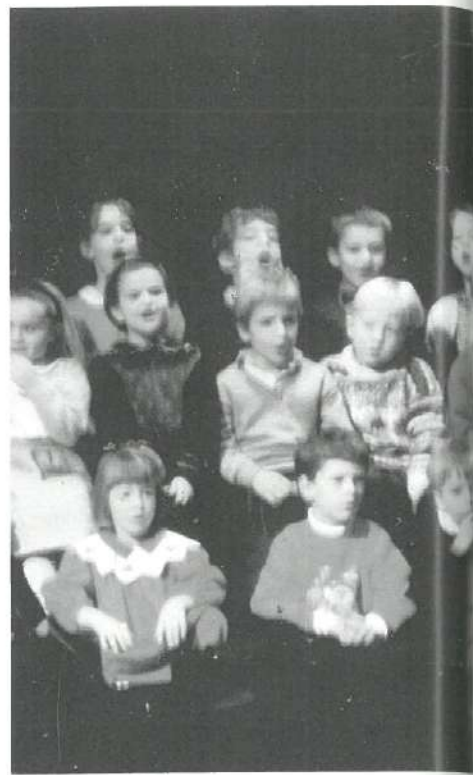

A special encounter over a piece of cake introduces Sandra to the charismatic charm of Dino.

Acat on Broadway: a unique learning experience

Born out of many long hours of work and dedication, the production of "Acat on Broadway" involved over half the middle and upper school creating among them a great feeling of pride and spirit. For every minute on stage there was at least one hour of preparation to which the cast and crew committed themselves fully. Consequently, they all met this challenge with outstanding results learning that theater is the energy, spirit, and work of every person involved.

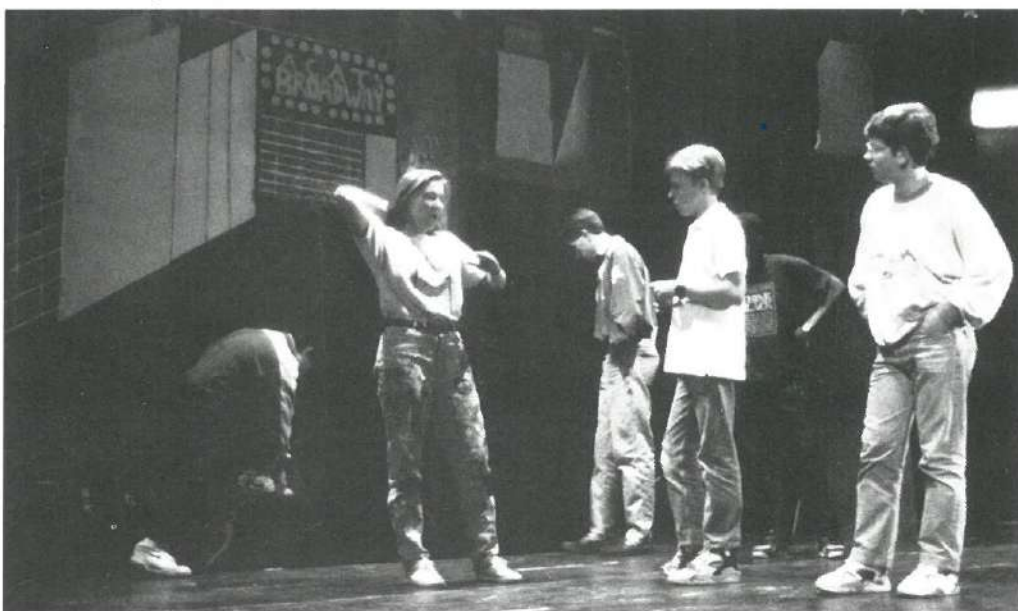

(Adapted from Maria Thieneman's production notes)

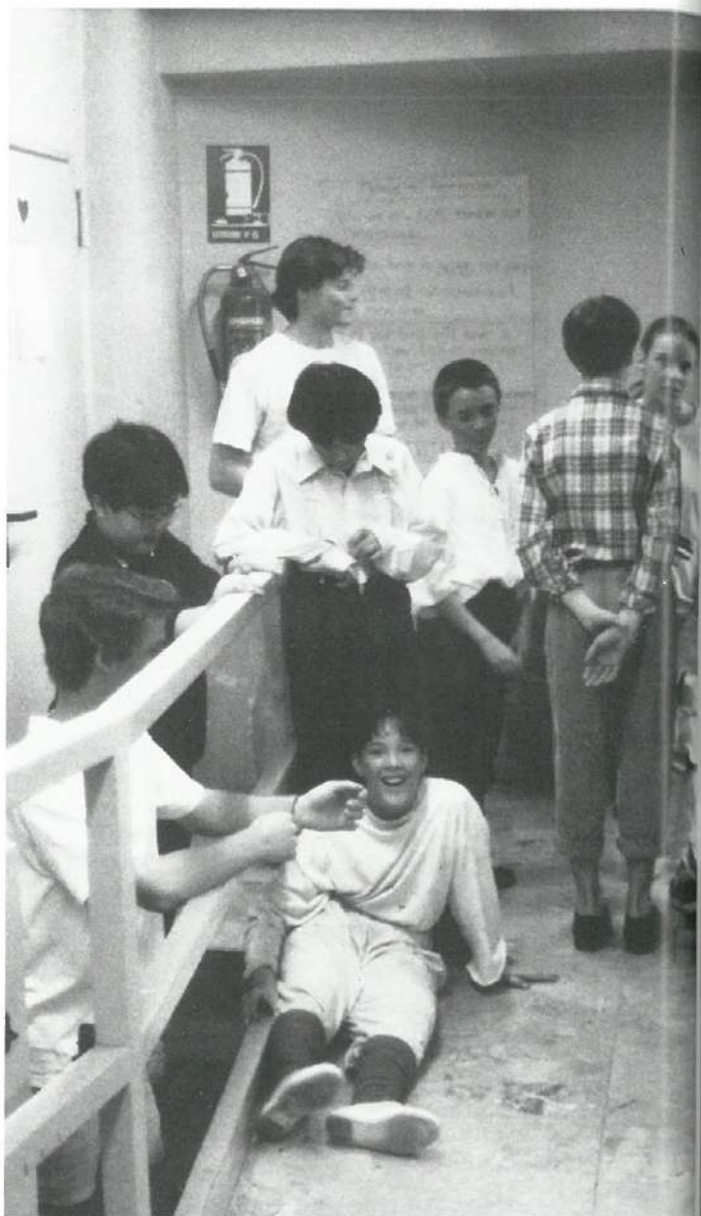

Omni-present Maria and congenial Martha collaborate on set preparations.

Versatile Brian switches over from play rehearsal to set construction under Gui's supervision.

Backstage crew gets final instructions from Maria.

With ten minutes to show time, cast members try to digest an attack of butterflies in their stomachs.

Dynamic Mrs. Buckland became the vital force behind the show's success.

Lighting technician Andrea goes through a final check before curtain call.

With a few finishing touches to her makeup, Melissa is ready to face the public.

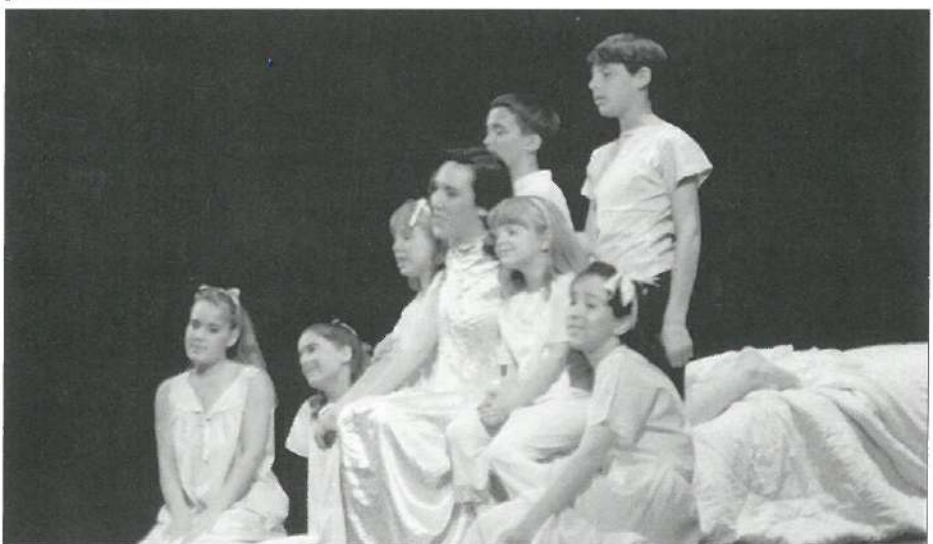

Flanked by her South Pacific "acquaintances," Maria belts out a rousing "Honeybun".

Exuberant middle-schoolers steal the show with their "Consider Yourself" from Oliver.

Determined to "Wash that man right outta my hair" Deborah and company delighted the packed house.

With a medley from "Sound of Music" the show radiates a special warmth.

Easter Hat Parade: a unique fashion show

Nimble-fingered Mrs. Holland rescues a hat in distress.

In her characteristic pose, Ms. Hersey can get even the hats to sing.

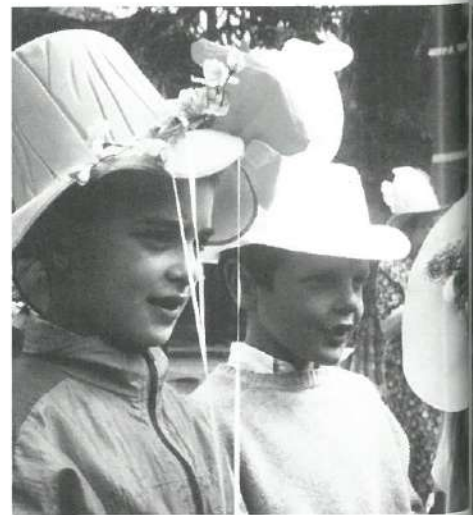

Sporting a multi-layered model, Bianca keeps a firm hold on her creation.

Joining in on the fun, Ms. Bartscher sprouts her own creation of seasonal flowers.

Like a refreshing breath of spring The Acat Hatters brought their colors and their joy to the Ancients.

Brilliant colors and flamboyant designs favored the fashion event of the year

Away from the madding crowd, some hats were made for picking flowers.

Appropriately hatted 3rd graders admire the colorful spectacle.

On the conservative side two Alberto's join the parade.

When tipping one's hat, one must be careful not to be tipped by one's hat.

Some hats were not meant for walking.

Mari practices her origami technique at the Art Fair.

Juanita learns the basic directions for the boot toss from Paola Ronzan.

A solo on "Broadway" marked one of Brian's peak moments this year.

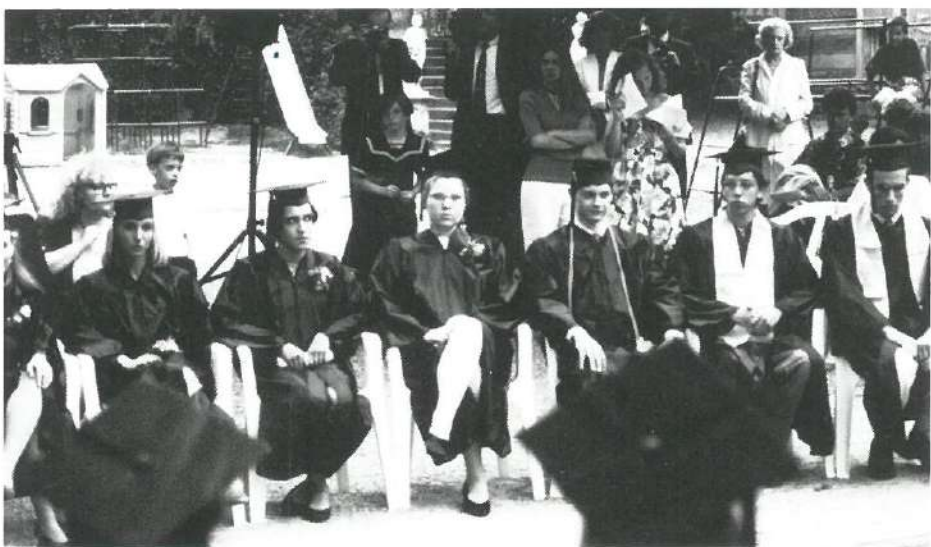

Alex made his debut and contribution as a highlight of Mrs. Lencioni's year.

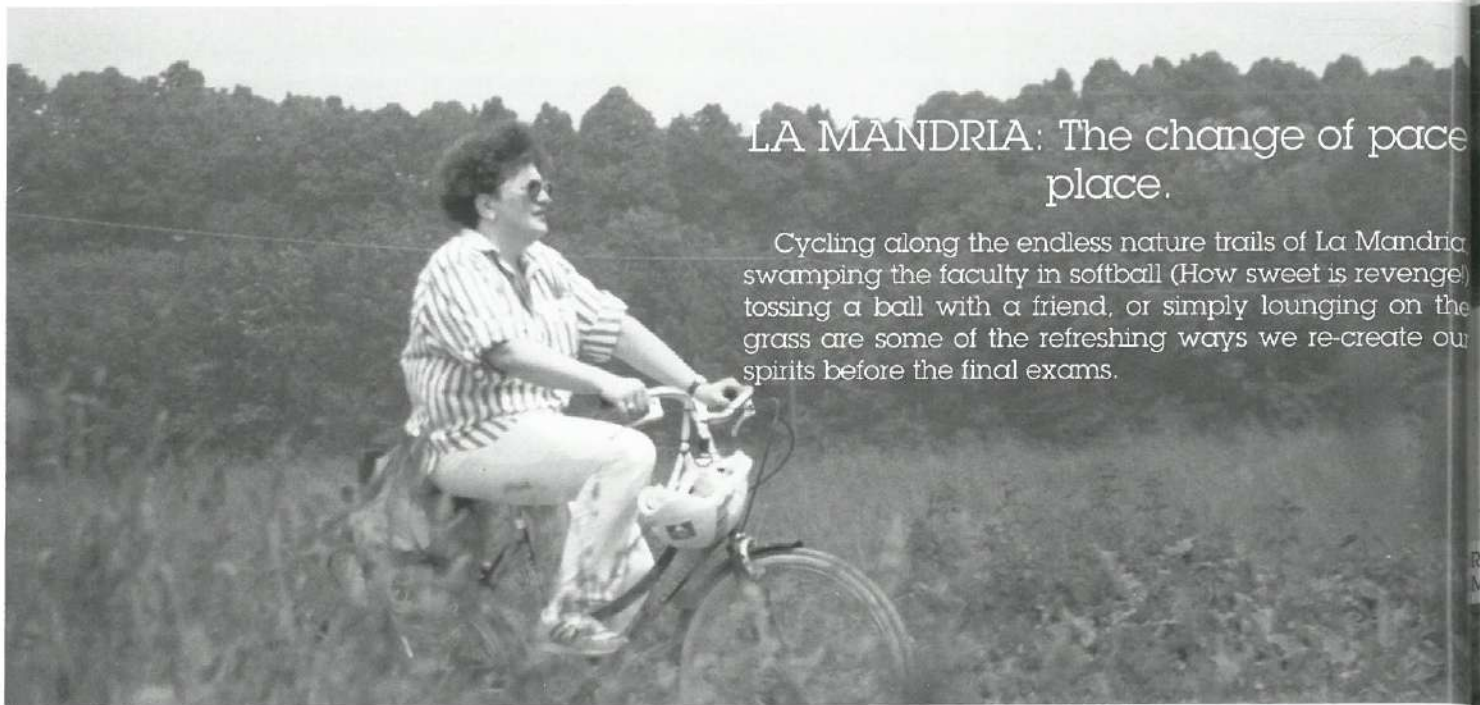

The whole "Acad on Broadway" was a unique event for about 60 members of the upper school.

Singing the national anthem at graduation had its own significance.

Wearing the cap and gown on June eleventh drew a fitting conclusion to a memory-filled year.

LA MANDRIA: The change of pace place.

Cycling along the endless nature trails of La Mandria swamping the faculty in softball (How sweet is revenge) tossing a ball with a friend, or simply lounging on the grass are some of the refreshing ways we re-create our spirits before the final exams.

Carefree and windblown, Mrs. Solomon explores the backroads of La Mandria.

Just sitting in the shade, Maresa doubles her fun with a big bubble.

Stubby but speedy, Yosuke beats out the throw to first base.

Ms. Brown releases her famous "hot potato" pitch to dazzle the opposition.

In her softball debut, dynamic Paula Ronzan Leads off the Faculty's effort to score.

A formidable student defense readies itself for anything the faculty has to offer.

Refueling in flight, Valentina and Lucina continue their exploration of La Mandria.

A relaxing conversation on the grass helps wind-up a perfect (get-a-way) change-of-pace day.

After a day well-spent on the playing fields of La Mandria, Mr. Abbot and Emiliano head for the bus.

Our talented quarterback Tiffany throws the long bomb to Mohamed.

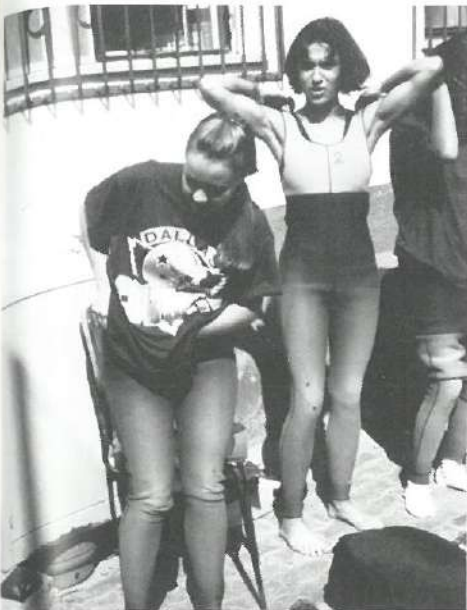

With their bicycles parked, an energetic group of 9th graders seeks more action on the softball field.

MODEL UNITED NATIONS

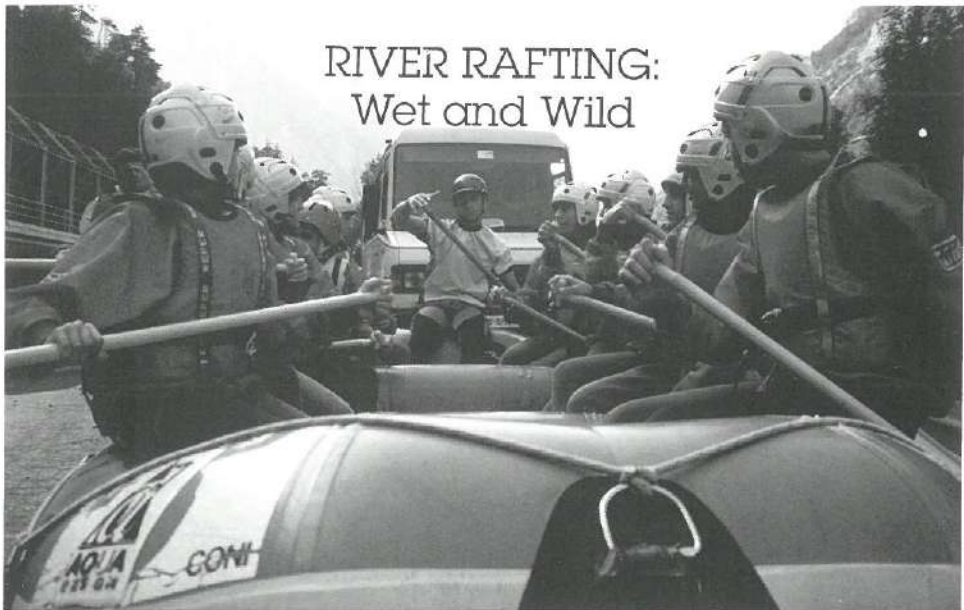

This year once again ACAT represented Luxembourg at the 25th annual Hague International Model United Nations. The week long experience of diplomacy and world affairs was one never to be forgotten. People gathered from as far as Indonesia to participate side by side with people from every country in Europe. The endless hours of work (and play) created memories that will last forever.

The Luxembourg Connection Joseph Piovano, Melissa Buente, Brian Buente, Rachel Benson, Piero Carello, Maria Thieneman, David Johnson, Sarah Thieneman.

Giulia and Deb suit up for an unusual adventure on the water.

RIVER RAFTING: Wet and Wild

The adventure became somewhat more unusual when a bus tried to pass the busy paddlers.

White water and Sara's shrieks complement each other on the fast-moving river.

To guarantee a more secure ride, you need to pump up your raft first.

Wet and wild Amanda raps up another thrill packed day.

A serious contribution to the breath-taking experience is an undersized wet suit.

Elementary Closing Exercises

Among the proud parents enjoying the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Longbottom.

A spirited "wheel dance" offered a pleasant interlude to the program.

A calm before the action begins allows Sophia to enjoy one last climb over.

Before becoming sixth graders, the fifth graders enjoy their final moments with Mrs. Compton.

Ms. Hersey inspires her timid choraleers to perform.

With a congenial escort, Ms. Conway pauses for a "Kodak moment" before joining the exercises.

Mr. Selby's farewell address adds a poignant note to the promotion ceremony.

Elegant in his vest and tie, Ennio absorbs the moment with interest.

A smile and encouraging word from Mrs. Zabaldano (plus the promotion certificate) make Edoardo's day.

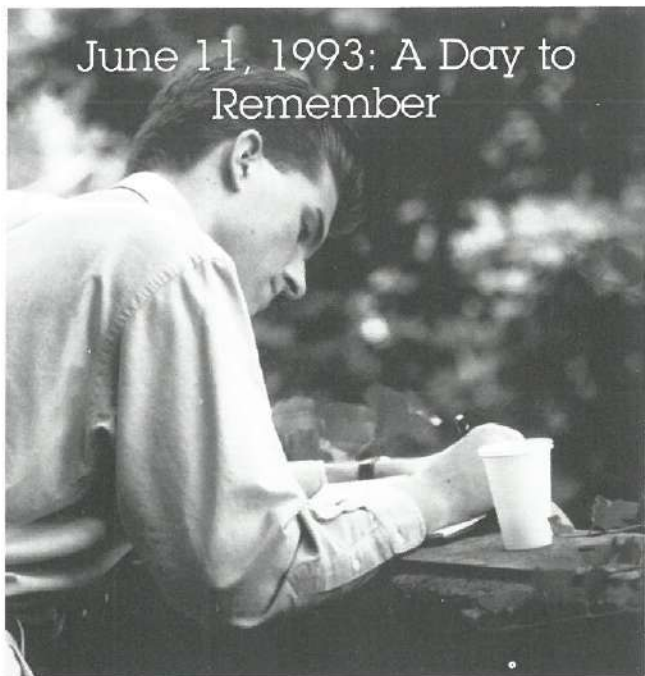

Accompanied by Mr. Penner and Mrs. Brashear, the third graders assemble to receive their certificates.

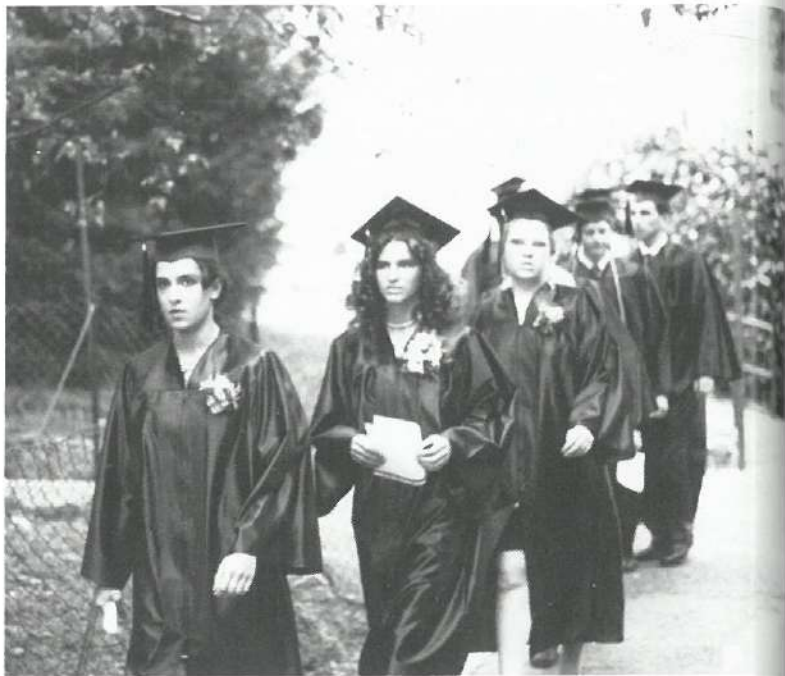

With everyone promoted the only thing left to do is enjoy a carefree summer.

June 11, 1993: A Day to Remember

Never one to rush things, Brian adds the finishing touches to his graduation speech.

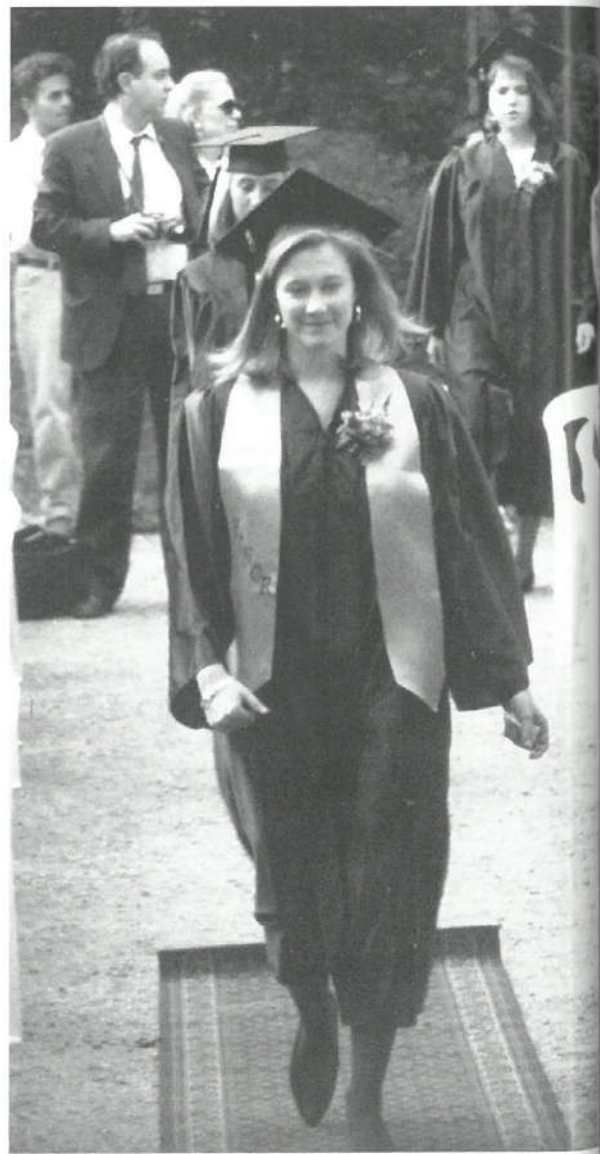

Enjoying their peak moment of the year, seniors file proudly into the garden.

With 3 promotions in the family, Mr. and Mrs. Palisca are especially attentive to the ceremony.

Board President Jay Longbottom and British Consul Ralph Griffiths exchange pleasantries before addressing the graduation audience.

The year's efforts successfully behind, Maria takes her place with justifiable satisfaction.

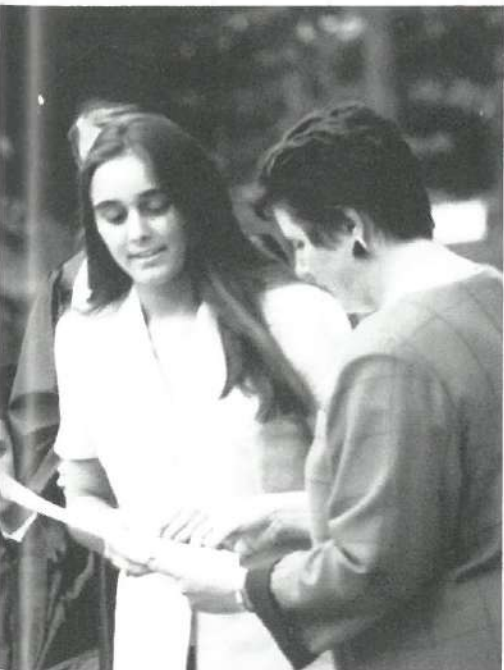

In top form for their final performance, the chorus offers a pleasant musical interlude during the ceremony.

With contrasting distractions in mind, seniors struggle to pay attention to the speakers.

His stage fright overcome, Paolo's day was complete only when he had finished his solo.

Kirsten Gelsomini proudly accepts the Xerox Corporation Award.

Mr. Selby acknowledges Francesca Genesio as this year's E.C.I.S. Student of the year.

Homeroom teacher Mark Abbot assigns Sandra Wonisch her promotion certificate to conclude the 8th grade's passage to high school.

La Monoservizio Bibo si differenzia dalla maggior parte delle aziende concorrenti proprio in termini strategici: doppia produzione (in polistirolo e in cartoncino), gamma ampia ed articolata, particolare cura nel packaging, oltre ad una qualità di base sempre elevata, intesa a posizionare il marchio al di fuori della low price competition.

La scelta di posizionamento, compatibilmente con le caratteristiche del mercato, si è infatti da sempre indirizzata verso il segmento top quality, soprattutto attraverso la produzione della linea di piatti e bicchieri in cartoncino. Assolutamente indispensabile nel quadro di un'offerta completa, i tovaglioli non rappresentano invece un prodotto strategico per l'azienda torinese, ma piuttosto un'importante complemento di gamma, in particolare nell'area del tre veli stampato, cioè del massimo livello qualitativo. Insieme a piatti e bicchieri, costituiscono infatti uno degli elementi essenziali dei set coordinati.

 Negozio aperto al pubblico: orario continuato dalle ore 8,30 alle ore 16,30 (escluso il sabato)

La Monoservizio Bibo S.p.A. è, in Italia, leader di mercato dei prodotti monouso per la tavola sia in termini di quota di mercato che per quanto concerne la completezza dell'assortimento, la qualità dei prodotti ed il servizio ai Clienti.

La Società è fornitore dei maggiori gruppi della G.D.O. che assorbono circa il 70% delle vendite in Italia del prodotto per i consumatori.

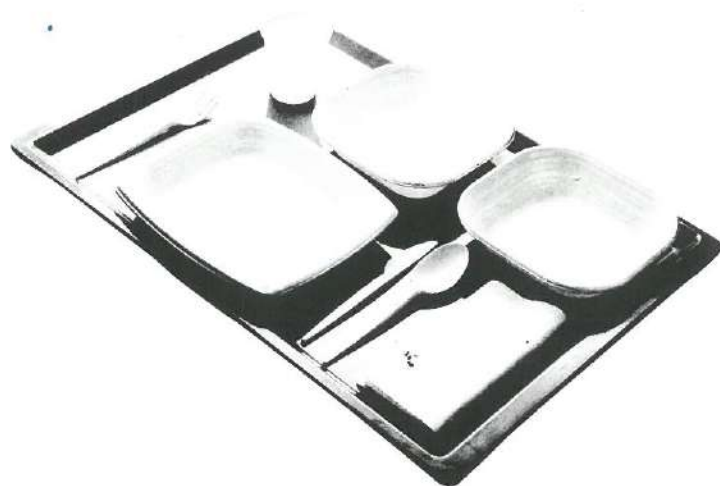

La leadership nell'ambito della G.D.O. è stata raggiunta attraverso continui studi ed implementazioni di tutti i fattori che determinano una veloce «rotazione» a scaffale: caratteristiche del prodotto, dell'imballo e del packaging.

La Monoservizio Bibo S.p.A., che nel 1992 ha raggiunto un fatturato di circa 70 miliardi di lire, è stata fondata nel 1928. L'Azienda è quindi uno dei pionieri nell'industria del monouso per la tavola ed ha di conseguenza acquisito un importante know-how ed una profonda «cultura» nell'ambito di questo specifico settore.

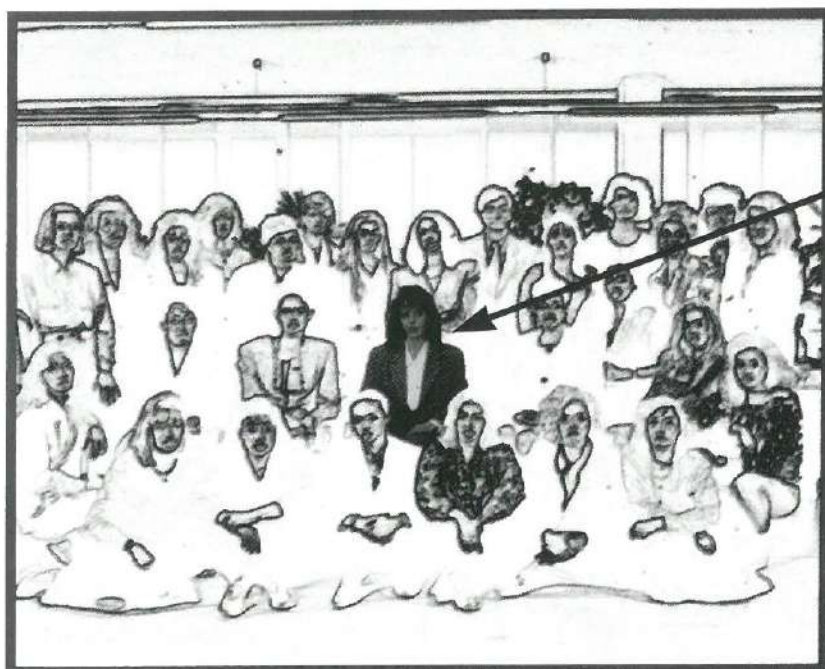

Da 5 anni ormai la Monoservizio Bibo applica a tutti i livelli i principi della Qualità Totale e, entro la fine del 1993, si sarà organizzata secondo le norme ISO 9002 richieste per la certificazione in ambito CEE.

La Monoservizio Bibo ha anche una importante quota di mercato nel settore Catering che assorbe circa il 30% del suo fatturato totale.

In questo settore l'Azienda opera con una gamma completa di articoli studiati specificatamente, in termini di caratteristiche del prodotto, del confezionamento e dell'imballaggio, per soddisfare le esigenze della ristorazione sociale (es. prodotti per i vassoi) e commerciale (alberghi e ristoranti).

Once not long ago there was a small man who despite his size was able to achieve for this school more than any other man. He was not a hero but a father of a hundred children. Like a father, he was kind and reassuring. Sometimes, he used to rub his mustache while thinking about a possible solution. We loved him because he never got angry with us but he tried to stimulate and support us as much as he could. He was the best, and now all around us there is this emptiness, this silence, this confusion and I personally feel lost. I still have so many things to learn and there are so many things I don't understand; I wish you were here. I am sitting in a chair with a pencil and restraining myself from crying. I suddenly close my eyes but nothing appears in front of me. I try harder There he is with a smiling face. He is standing there in the science lab at his usual place. I go nearer to touch him but he faints away. Call him but he does not show. I just wanted to say "thank you", but you had to go away leaving me alone like a fool. I try again, I scream and suddenly I realize you are gone. I look at the sky which is dull just like the atmosphere that surrounds us this morning. Even the sky cries for you and it seems to tell you: "thank you for what you did for us, father; please come back."

I remember when he used to call me "curlycue", everything bad that happened that day went away. I did not feel bad anymore for a bad grade in a test or for a fight with a teacher. He was for us not only a father but a teacher of life. He wanted the best for us and for the school, as a father wants the best for his children. Next year, we the eleventh grade should have planned our future with him, but he is gone. However, he will be there any time we need him ready to help us and to fight with us as he did once. All you need to do is close your eyes and call his name. He will not disappoint you, he will show up. So arrivederci, Mr. Leiser, because you will hear my voice pretty soon.

Love,
"Curly cue"

Xever
your children.
