The International School of Torino

The backdrop of our dreams

This Yearbook was prepared by the upper school students of the ACAT INTERNATIONAL School of Turin

Against the backdrop of ACAT-IST, we find an academic atmosphere safe enough to take risks: to speak up in class, to write a poem, to set our own style, to achieve individual success by our own definition of the term. Here, extracurricular activities really are extra-special, for they invite us to go beyond the classroom - to polish a skill, make new friends, develop a new interest, test our leadership ability, or give shape to our dreams. As you flip through the pages of this yearbook, we invite you to share a collection of the memories that have helped inspire some of our dreams.

Dedication

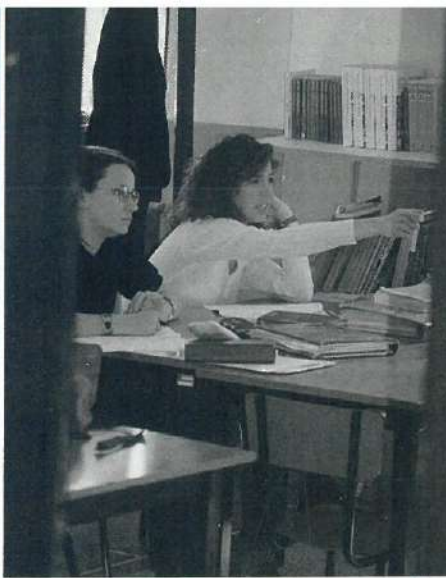

Dear Mrs. Lymbery,

For your presence as a guide through our final years of A.C.A.T., for your helpfulness in discussing college courses and sorting out applications, for the patience with which you dedicate yourself to following us through the labyrinth of our Extended Essays, World Lit.s, Guided Courseworks, TOK essays and many more, for the support you show every time we need some, and for the biscuits that some of us borrow from you so often, for all this and for much more we wish to dedicate this book to you. Thank you for all your help and encouragement; thank you for being that special somebody whom we know we can count on.

Sincerely,
The Yearbook Staff.

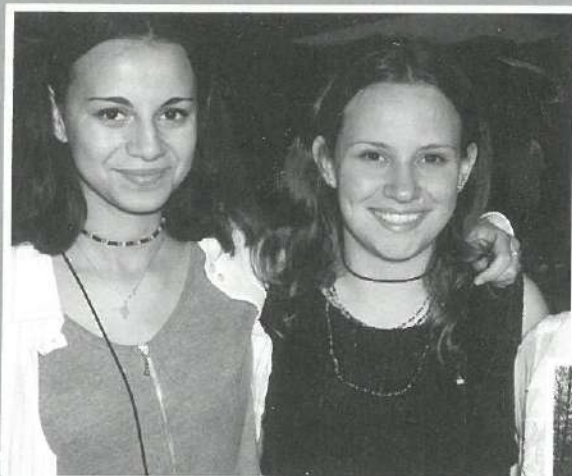

Academics

Lisa Bardelli

"... and even though I've often had enough of this school, here I've spent days I'll remember all my life."

Lisa Bardelli

Lisa, the determined and idealistic one of the group, enjoys going out with her friends, going to concerts, and "bugging" people, while she hates hypocrisy and prejudice. Of her fourteen years at Acat she will always carry with her memories of Egg Days, La Mandria and art classes (with Monica!), talking about crackers in the sun, Student Council, and Oliver. Concerned by the problems of today's youth, she is looking forward to a career in the field of psychology. And Lisa would like to remind you that: NON SONO BIONDA!

"ACAT will always be on top of my memory, and whatever I do, wherever I go, ACAT will always be with me, along with all my friends and people who have supported me these years."

Sydnei Elliott

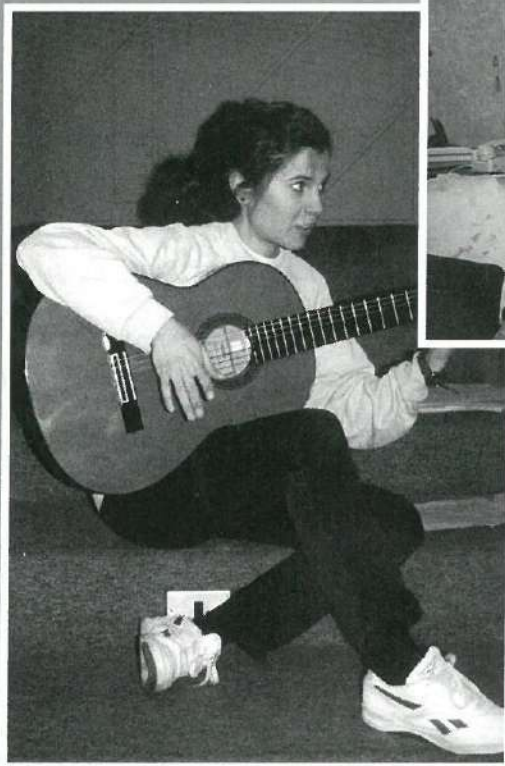

Friendly, athletic Syd claims that Acat has been the best school he has ever attended. He will treasure forever such memories as Sports Day, Stracats and the precious moments spent with his friends. Dynamic Syd's passions are soccer and physical education in general, although he also enjoys talking to and ... flirting with girls! Hoping to become a P.E. teacher or a soccer coach for kids, next year he will attend Auburn University in the States.

Sydnei Elliott

"ACAT has guided me like a second family; it has taught me the theory of life; the world will be the practical lesson."

Genesio

Francesca Genesio

The first piece of work I produced for ACAT, in Kindergarten, was a drawing of a cowboy, with his hat and gun on. The work with which I "bid farewell" is my IB diploma. The magic that has helped me cover the distance between cowboys and International diplomas has lasted thirteen years: it's secret being the wonderful atmosphere of IST ... ACAT has seen me through the best days of my childhood and adolescence; I have witnessed and have been part of, some of ACAT's most glorious moments: ACAT on Broadway, Working, Oliver, As You Like It, Yearbook(s), MUN(s) ... (the list is endless.) I will never forget "Cerotto sulla lingua", eating crackers in the sun, Gregory, the Latin Adventure, the coffees, the first grade love, and Shakespeare (Both the author and the pub!)

Carmen Gennari

You just need to walk in the artroom and admire Carmen's beautiful work constantly on display to appreciate her special talent. Contemplating a future as a fashion designer, our "grungy" graduate spends her free time not only sketching but also rollerblading and playing volleyball. Sensitive Carmen will always be warmed by the memories of the special communication between teachers and students, a characteristic that will always make ACAT unique, wherever else the future may take her ...

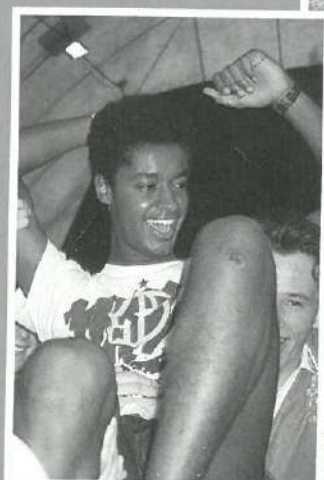

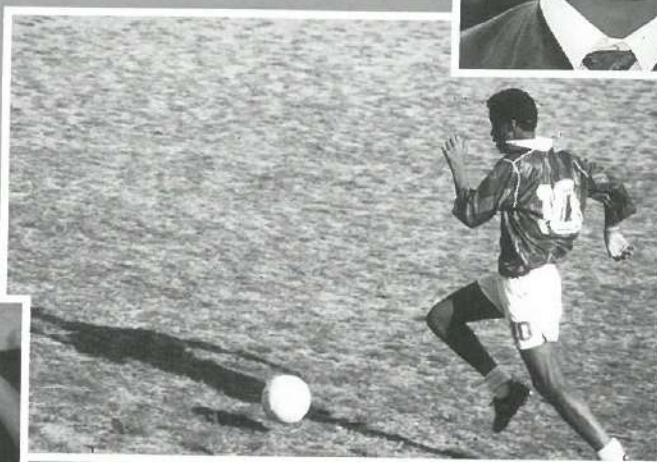

"Very very grunge."

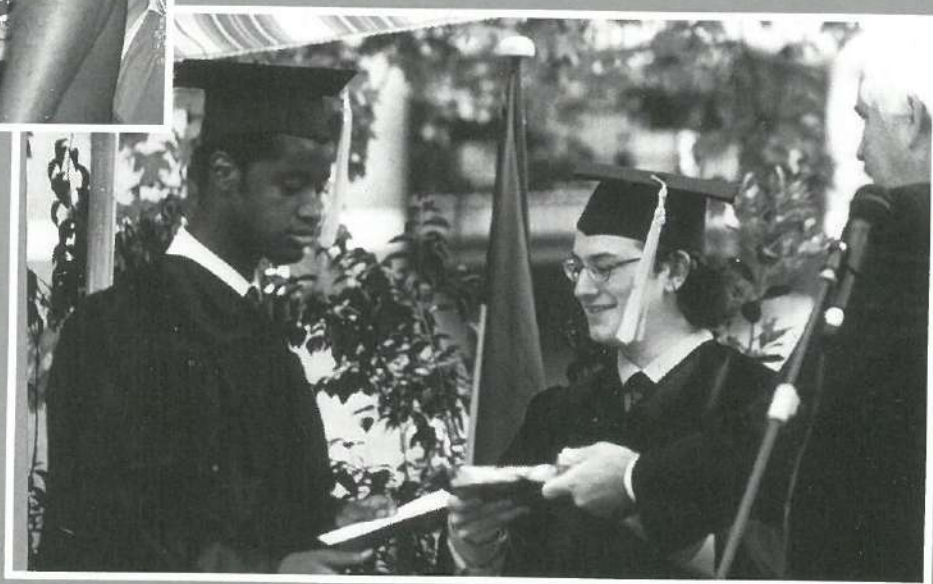

Carmen Gennari

Mohamed Kheir

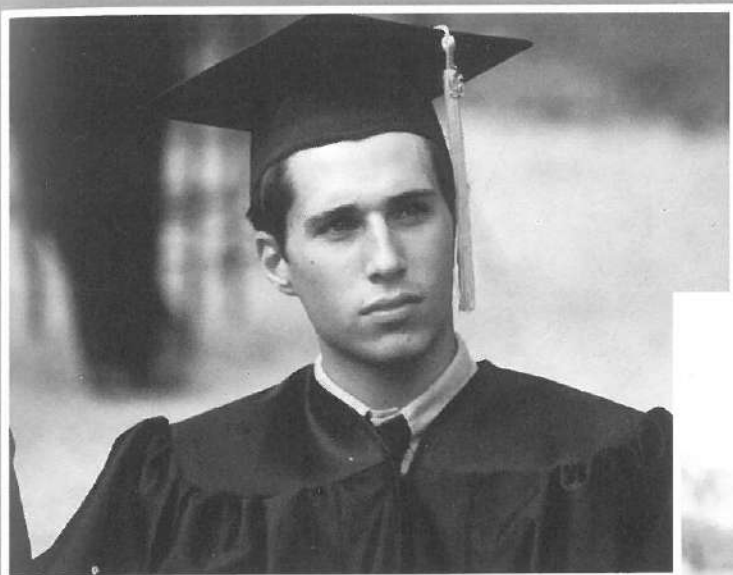

Moh, everybody's friend ... well-known for his genial nature, easygoing personality, and open character, has spent thirteen memorable and fun years at ACAT. Versatile in his interests, Moh dedicates much of his free time to a semiprofessional soccer team and plays the guitar, although his favorite hobby is undoubtedly going out with his friends! He will forever remember the three ACAT shows, the endless field trips, "il giunco", Sydnei's corner, and the third floor "social center".

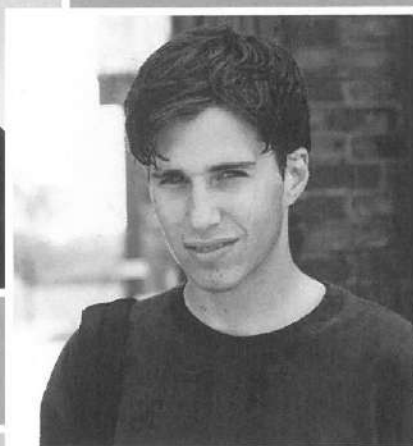

Mohamed Kheir

"My stay at ACAT has been unforgettable and leaving school will leave an empty space inside of me which will never be filled."

Paolo Paganelli

"I've seen a whole bunch of students, teachers, and headmasters pass by and I consider myself an Acat veteran."

Paolo Paganelli

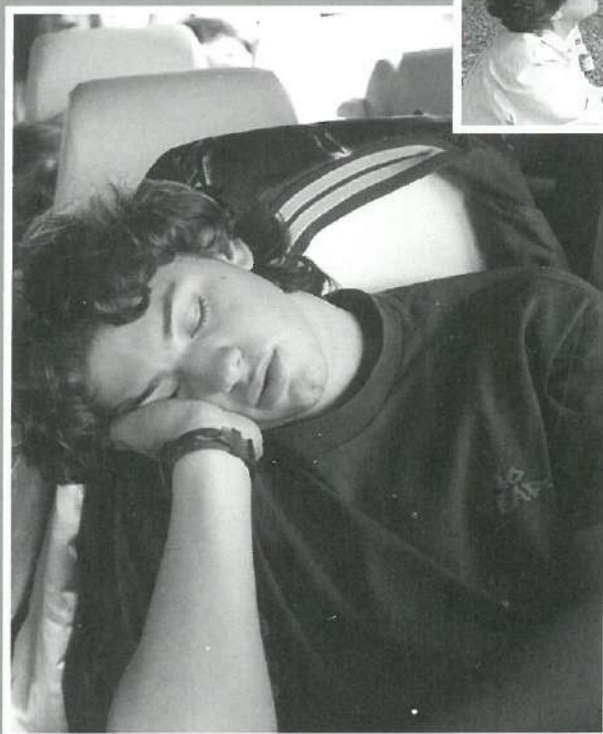

Pago il Mago ... our professional snowboarder. After fourteen years at Acat, Teresa and Alise ... his classes with Mr. Boyle ... his friends and teachers ... the shows ... the messes that he sometimes got in trouble for ... but most of all the family atmosphere of Acat will always be in his heart. His career: to do something extraordinary with his life. W Enzo le Physique!

Andrea Palisca

"People who think they know everything annoy the heck out of us who do"

Andrea Palisca

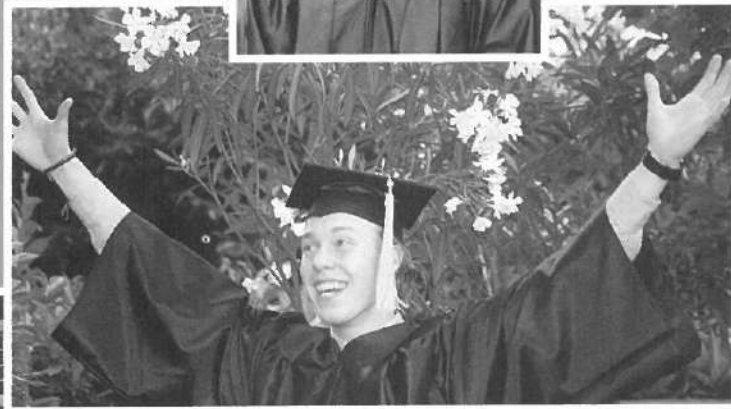

PAF ... Student Council President, the school plays' light man, a future computer engineer (and millionaire!), always ready to organize, calculate, or help with just about anything. He is proud of his achievements at ACAT and claims that his fourteen years here were full of discoveries, friends, and fun. He will always believe that Macintosh computers are the best, and we advise you not to argue with him, for it will be useless!

Carl Piovano

Carl Piovano

"ACAT ... a welcoming family which has lasted thirteen years. And more ..."

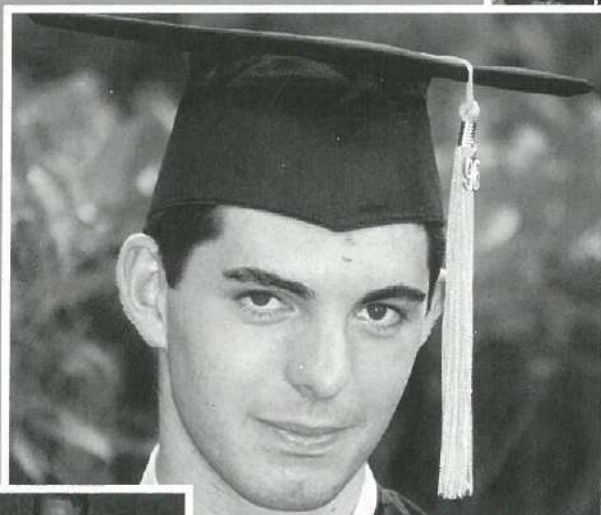

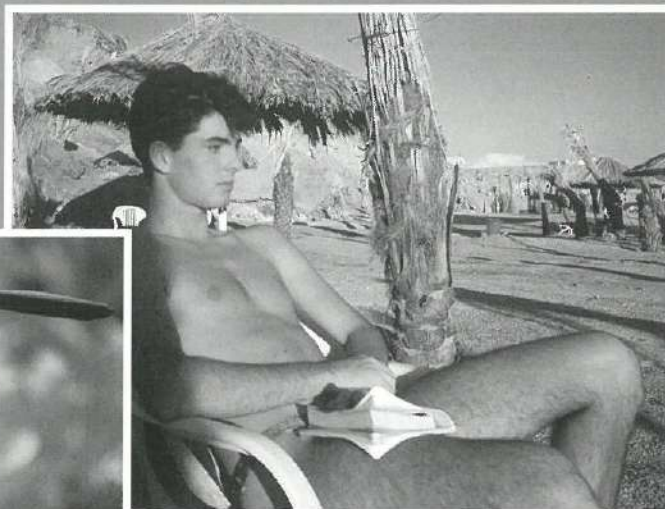

"Iceman Carl" ... reserved ... Intelligent ... athletic ... a role model.

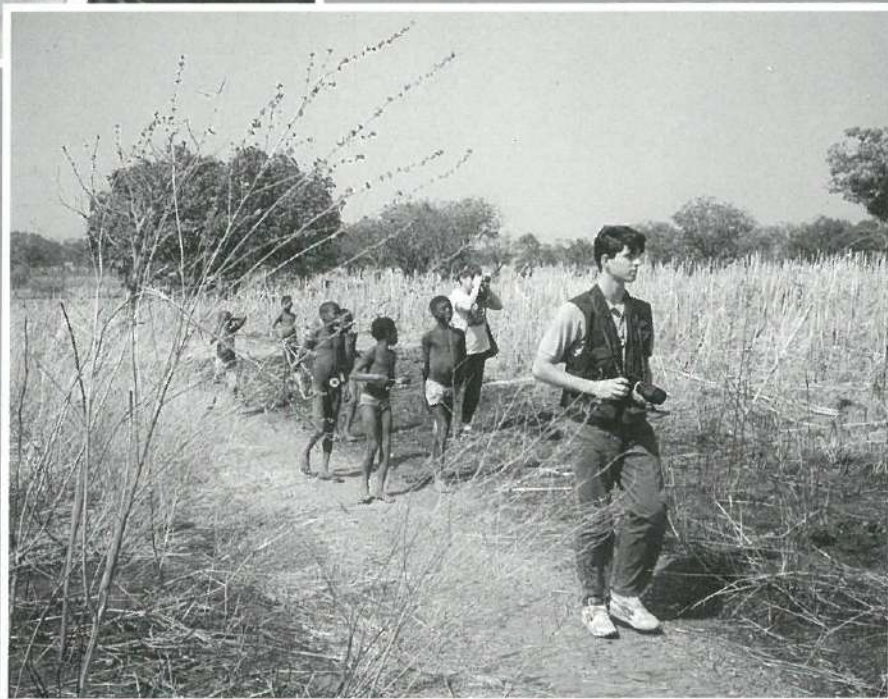

Thirteen years at ACAT have filled him with memorable moments which he will carry with him through his brilliant future at the prestigious University of Pennsylvania. His senior highlights include turning eighteen on stage, the basketball court, the various theater productions; Bumble Wumble, and "Piuvars", the zama, and the graduation parties ...

Edoardo Vignani

"ACAT ... I will forever remember this building, and all the steps I made growing up in it"

Edoardo Vignani

Reflexive ... attentive ... critical ... knowledgeable ... and particularly "banfone" ... Determined to succeed in his studies of International Relations and psychology, studious Edo showed his commendable dedication to ACAT by the endless hours he spent working on the Acateer His classmates, as well as Alse and Teresa, will always occupy a special place in his heart.

The flowers for music teacher, Mrs. Rosser, and the applause for the many multi-talented cast kept a warm-glow through the Christmas holidays.

"As You Like It": One way to put foundations to your dreams.

There is no better place for dreams to come true than on a stage. Yet what does it take to turn imagination into reality? A lot of hard work for a team of committed people. The ingredients for the spell that puts on a show are many and don't always work. It takes hours of panic to memorize lines, an ever-fertile imagination to create sets and then true grit (complete with a handyman) to fix them when they break on the opening night. It takes a lot of nerve and little sleep. The magic reaction needs feedback from a live (and awake) audience as a catalyst. When all of these elements come together, though, the dream is on its way to realization, and even a small stage in Moncalieri can turn into the mysterious forest of Arden.

Field Trips: Gathering the clues to History's Detective Story.

Scrambling through the remains of the past, adventurous Sixth graders dominated the travel calendar this year with the spirit of true historians, as they pieced together the Archeological evidence of Greek and Roman life. Not to be outdone, however, the Seventh graders followed diverse paths to form a clearer image of Medieval and Renaissance times.

The drinks are well-aged at a Roman bar in Ostia Antica.

Eager archaeologists, the Sixth graders search for Roman potshards.

Stage director Vittorio Borelli, fascinates the group with stories about his work.

Continuing an annual tradition, Mrs. Ronzan organized a special Sports Day on March 29th to encourage the Middle and High School to appreciate the value of playing a sport for its own sake, for the joy of sharing an activity with ones friends, for encouraging an attitude of proper sportsmanship and fair play. To this end, invited guest speakers from the Auxilium Basketball Team, Luca Jacomuzzi and a Judo Instructor, Piercarlo Capelli, talked to the students and encouraged them to understand the value of sportsmanship by explaining their own experience as sportsmen.

P.T.A. - A word of thanks to a special group.

All throughout the year, the P.T.A. has helped students, teachers, and parents in just about everything. The monthly bake sales, Santa's Workshop at Christmas, the Art Fair, the Stracat and Stracue and the refreshments at nearly every student activity are only a few ways in which the P.T.A. has been involved in the ACAT community. For this and for much more we thank you for being so much a part of the spirit of the school.

A parent's work is never done, but periodic joys like a son's achievement make the job worthwhile.

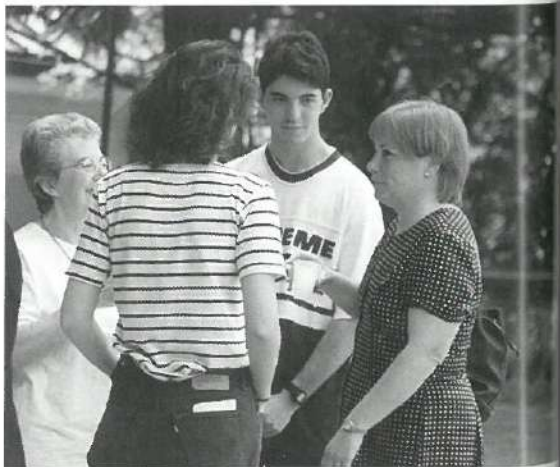

Parents proudly comment on the long, hard road towards the day's events.

Humbly conscious of the qualities that won her the NHS nomination, Liz confirms her commitment to them with a signature.

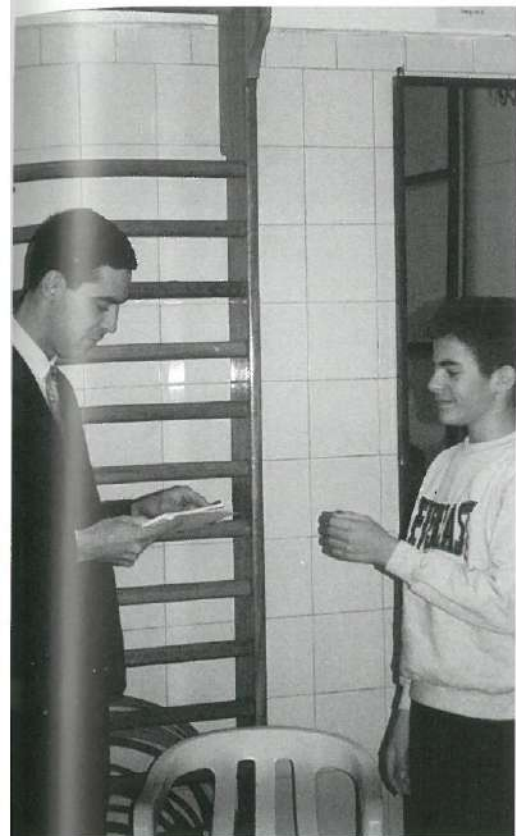

The Borzone family enjoys a quiet moment in the warm glow of Matteo's achievement.

A lighthearted reception helps to balance the seriousness of the day's events.

Awards Ceremony

Regular award receiver, Alberto adds another one to his collection.

NHS student Francesca shares some of her secrets for better study skills.

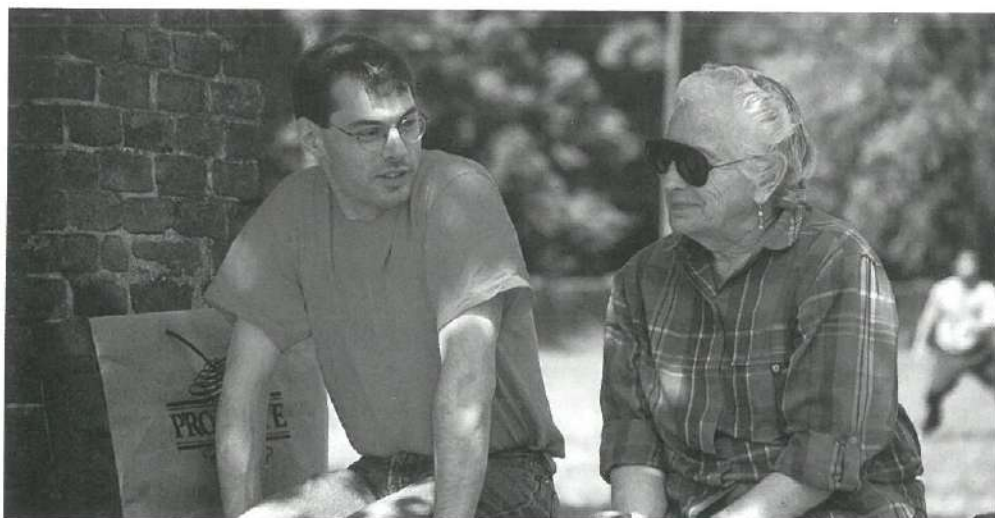

Nonchalant Carlotta casually reaches out to receive her certificate.

School survival techniques take on a new significance when a survivor like Carl gives the message.

La Mandria: the same old place but the same good feeling!

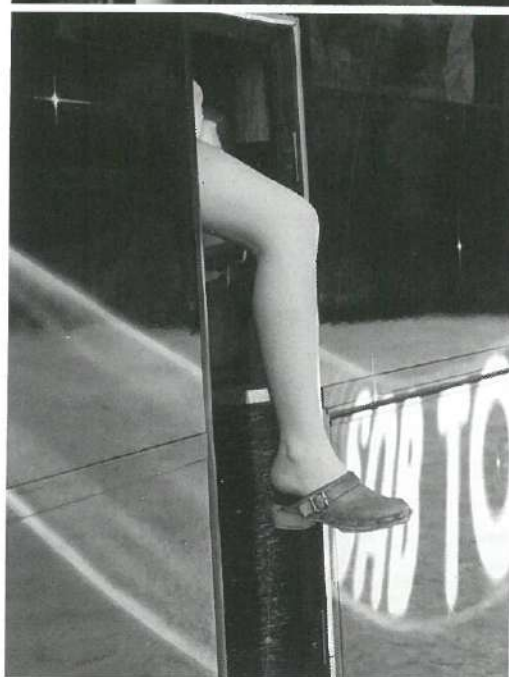

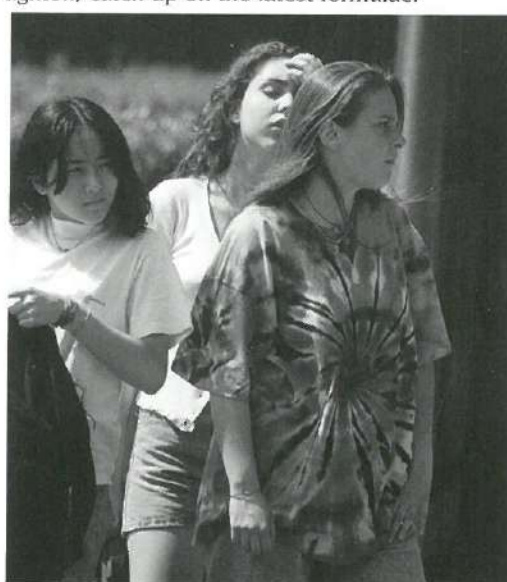

Math teachers, Mr. Acunto and Mrs. Houghton, catch up on the latest formulae.

In a graceful ritual spring dance, Mr. McKenzie gets psyched for the "La Mandria Experience."

Casual Barb gears up for a freewheeling spin around the park.

Still life of various phases of re-creation reflects our dreamland at the Mandria.

... of the forest of Arden into the woods of La Mandria. Mr. Robinson and Ms. Silippo keep on rolling.

Emi and Hiroko beat the heat with a refreshing lemon popstick.

While the kids are away, the bikes play.

The kids pulled; then the teachers pulled, and then ...

the teachers resorted to old age, experience, and even trickery to win the tug of war.

Elementary Promotion Ceremony: dream makers' dream

Proud of her fifth graders, Mrs. Compton shares the stage and their departure from the Elementary School.

An animated Nursery class starts off the musical portion of the ceremony.

A joyous African tribal dance by the The Third grade emphasizes ACAT's internationalism.

Mrs. Rosser sends dramatic directions to her singers.

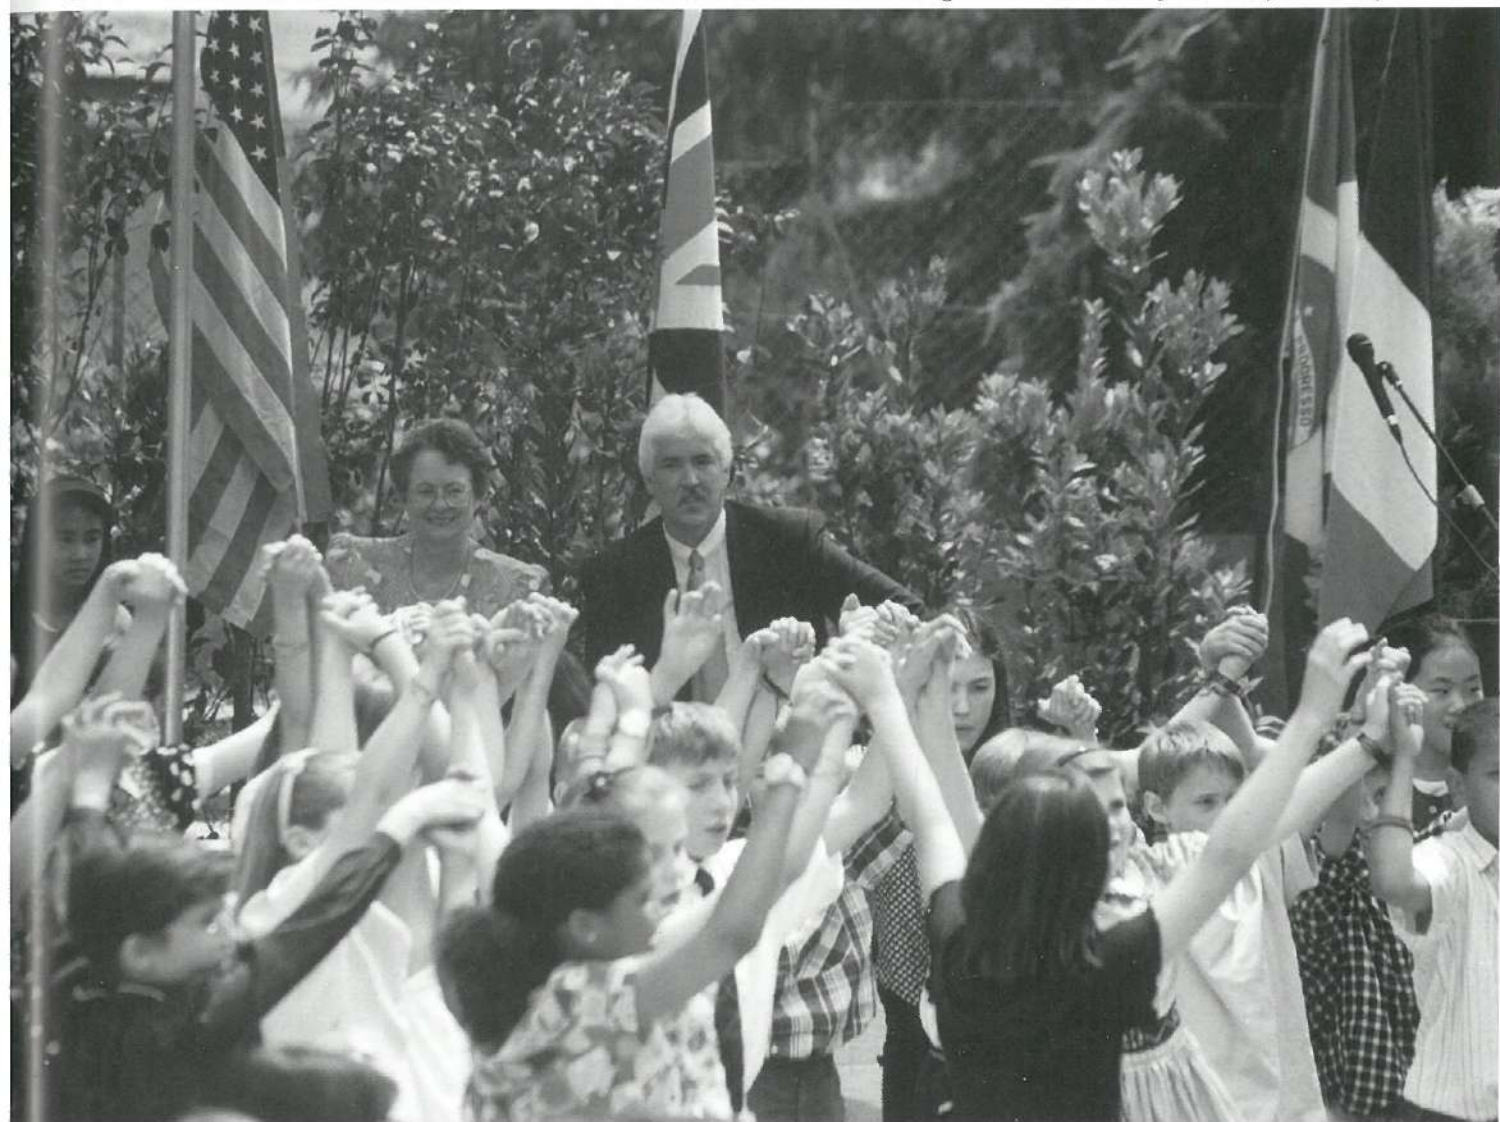

Many questions are still left unanswered.

Taking a new step forward in life requires guidance.

An attentive audience of all ages followed the lively ceremony with delight.

A challenge to any choreographer, the final dance brought a rousing conclusion to the festivities.

Graduation Day, June 19, 1996

Announcing The National Anthem, Dr. Elliott opens the ceremony.

Board President Mr. Vasino congratulates the seniors.

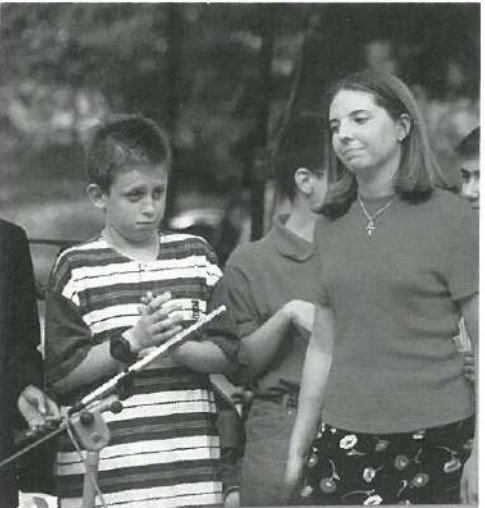

U.S. Consul General Griffin enlightens the graduation class.

Joining an extensive music program. The middle School chorus prepares to offer it's repertoire of songs.

Our high school music class brightens up the ceremony with a song.

Luca has been hypnotized by Katie's beautiful voice.

With formal recognition of their achievements, award recipients move on to greater challenges.

Future audio technician Andrea picks up a few choice hints from Raf.

Proud parents follow the promotion ceremony with interest.

Christian Münz (class of '88) reminisces with Teresa about graduations past.

The Xerox Award winner Matteo Borzone receives his premium from Mr. Mores.

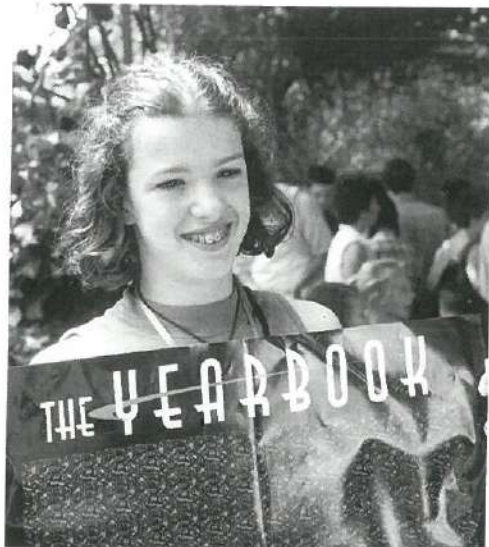

Dr. Elliott is especially pleased to award son Tony his promotion certificate.

Studio Arte e Comunicazione e "Piccola Scuola d'Arte" di Maria Grazia Pilato

Bambini

Un percorso di sviluppo che utilizza discipline diverse per permettere ai bambini di trovare un rapporto più armonioso con il mondo che li circonda. Il progetto Piccola Scuola d'Arte é: teatro, pittura, musica, espressione corporea, movimento creativo, scenografia, fotografia, ed altre espressioni artistiche che si uniscono in uno stimolante corso interdisciplinare.

Children

The project adopted by the Piccola Scuola d'Arte is a course of children development which uses different disciplines in order to allow children to find a better relationship with the world that surrounds them. It uses: theater, painting, music, body expression, creative movement, scenography, photography, and other artistic expressions which join in a stimulating interdisciplinary course.

Adolescenti E Adulti

Per ritrovare il piacere di una comunicazione efficiente e sicura (per i più giovani come supporto agli esami): seminari di comunicazione, uso della voce e del corpo e tecniche di sviluppo e di crescita. La nostra équipe di esperti propone inoltre un servizio di consulenza familiare.

Adolescents and Adults

Our purpose is to develop security in communication (for younger students as supplementary support). Seminars of communication are held, which work to improve the development and use of the voice and body expression. Our team of experts also offers a service of family counseling.

La Monoservizio Bibo si differenzia dalla maggior parte delle aziende concorrenti proprio in termini strategici: doppia produzione (in polistirolo e in cartoncino), gamma ampia ed articolata, particolare cura nel packaging, oltre ad una qualità di base sempre elevata, intesa a posizionare il marchio al di fuori della low price competition.

La scelta di posizionamento, compatibilmente con le caratteristiche del mercato, si è infatti da sempre indirizzata verso il segmento top quality, soprattutto attraverso la produzione della linea di piatti e bicchieri in cartoncino. Assolutamente indispensabile nel quadro di un'offerta completa, i tovaglioli non rappresentano invece un prodotto strategico per l'azienda torinese, ma piuttosto un'importante complemento di gamma, in particolare nell'area del tre veli stampato, cioè del massimo livello qualitativo. Insieme a piatti e bicchieri, costituiscono infatti uno degli elementi essenziali dei set coordinati.

Monoservizio

Disposables

La Monoservizio Bibo S.p.A. è, in Italia, leader di mercato dei prodotti monouso per la tavola sia in termini di quota di mercato che per quanto concerne la completezza dell'assortimento, la qualità dei prodotti ed il servizio ai Clienti.

La Società è fornitore dei maggiori gruppi della G.D.O. che assorbono circa il 70% delle vendite in Italia del prodotto per i consumatori.

La leadership nell'ambito della G.D.O. è stata raggiunta attraverso continui studi ed implementazioni di tutti i fattori che determinano una veloce «rotazione» a scaffale: caratteristiche del prodotto, dell'imballo e del packaging.

La Monoservizio Bibo S.p.A., che nel 1992 ha raggiunto un fatturato di circa 70 miliardi di lire, è stata fondata nel 1928. L'Azienda è quindi uno dei pionieri nell'industria del monouso per la tavola ed ha di conseguenza acquisito un importante know-how ed una profonda «cultura» nell'ambito di questo specifico settore.

Da 5 anni ormai la Monoservizio Bibo applica a tutti i livelli i principi della Qualità Totale e, entro la fine del 1993, si sarà organizzata secondo le norme ISO 9002 richieste per la certificazione in ambito CEE.

Negozio aperto al pubblico: orario continuato dalle ore 8,30 alle ore 16,30 (escluso il sabato) 117

La Monoservizio Bibo ha anche una importante quota di mercato nel settore Catering che assorbe circa il 30% del suo fatturato totale.

In questo settore l'Azienda opera con una gamma completa di articoli studiati specificatamente, in termini di caratteristiche del prodotto, del confezionamento e dell'imballaggio, per soddisfare le esigenze della ristorazione sociale (es. prodotti per i vassoi) e commerciale (alberghi e ristoranti).
